COLONEL TALKS AT ARMISTICE EXERCISES HERE

Public exercises at the Gettysburg high school at 10:45 o'clock this morning, sponsored by the members of the Albert J. Lentz post No. 202 of the American Legion of Gettysburg, marked the first war-time observance of Armistice Day today in Gettysburg.

World War II was seen simply as a "resumption of World War hostilities," by Colonel Edward J. Oliver, Gettysburg college ROTC commandant, who delivered the Armistice Day address. "Able leaders have emerged to guide us to victory. We and our allies should maintain after the war a strong foreign policy which will prevent a strong aggressor from getting into power in the future," he declared.

Traces Events
Colonel Oliver, who was in Siberia when the Armistice was signed 24 years ago, traced events since that time that led up to the current war. He charged that after Versailles Germany took deliberate steps to violate the terms of the treaty resulting finally in its repudiation by Hitler in 1937 and Germany's aggression in Europe.

"The treaty of Versailles was not a bad treaty—except for Germany and they were the defeated nation," the speaker observed.

C. Arthur Brame, commander of the Lentz post of the Legion, presided over this morning's exercises with members of the post on the platform with him. Buglers sounded "To the colors" as a color guard advanced the colors to the platform with the Legionnaires following. After the pledge of allegiance the assembly sang two stanzas of America and then prayer was offered by Chaplain Howard Strausbaugh.

MARTZ HEADS LEGION CLUB

Carl Martz was elected as the new president of the Last Man's club of the Lentz post of the American Legion at the club's annual banquet and meeting which was held Tuesday evening at the Battlefield hotel.

William E. Timmins, the retiring president, presided with 65 of the club's 86 members in attendance.

The speaker was Col. Edward J. Oliver, commandant of the Gettysburg college ROTC.

Other officers for the club for the coming year are: Vice president, Carl Menchey; secretary, Paul M. Rohrbaugh; treasurer, Joseph E. Smith; chaplain, Howard Strausbaugh; historian, Bernard Partridge, and members of the nominating committee for next year, Raymond Adams, Howard Hartzell and M. W. Bollinger.

The members of the club paused at one point in their program to stand in silence in memory of Robert Felix, late of Gettysburg, only member of the club who died since the last annual gathering.

Group singing was led Tuesday evening by Dr. R. D. Wickerham. A roast chicken dinner was served.

Plans will be made for the next annual banquet of the club members on the eve of Armistice Day in 1943.

Birth Announcements

Mrs. Everett Bennett, Hanover street, gave birth to a son, GARY ALFRED, at the Warner hospital here this morning. Telegraph and air mail are being used to send word of the birth to Gary's father, who is on duty with the U.S. Navy at Pearl Harbor.

Mrs. Bennett, the former Helen Houck, of Gettysburg, and their first son, Larry, who will be three years old in February, were with Mr. Bennett at Pearl Harbor on December 7 when the Japs struck. Mrs. Bennett and Larry came to Gettysburg in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Snyder, North Stratton street, announce the birth of a daughter at the Warner hospital Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Topper, Emmitsburg, announce the birth of a daughter this morning.

Miss Durboraw, Horace Bushman Wed Since March

Announcement was made today of the secret wedding last March 14 of Miss Merion A. Durboraw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Durboraw, Gettysburg R. 1, and Horace Mann Bushman, son of Rufus H. Bushman, North Stratton street.

The ceremony took place in a Presbyterian church in Hagerstown, Maryland, with the pastor, the Rev. G. A. Young, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Trostle, Gettysburg, were the attendants.

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg high school in the class of 1939 and for the last two and a half years has been employed as an operator in the Gettysburg exchange of the United Telephone company.

Mr. Bushman graduated from the high school in 1935 and was employed in the printing department of The Gettysburg Times for about six years until his recent induction into the U. S. Army. Now he is stationed at Camp Blanding, Florida.

CHANGE IN HOURS AT HIGH SCHOOL STARTS MONDAY

In order to cooperate with bus and school schedules of surrounding school districts, a change will be made in opening hour at the Gettysburg high school and the noon hour will be shortened slightly, effective on Monday morning, it was announced today by Superintendent Lloyd C. Keefeauver. No change will be made in the schedule for elementary schools here, he said.

The morning sessions at high school will begin at 9:10 o'clock instead of the present 8:50 a. m. while part of the last time will be made up by shortening the noon recess to one hour. Classes will be dismissed at 12 o'clock and will take up again at 1 p. m., taking 12 minutes off the present noon period.

The remainder of the 20 minutes lost in the morning by the later opening hour will be made up by an adjustment of class, assembly and home room program schedules, the superintendent stated.

Closing Hour Not Changed
High school will continue to close at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. While there have been requests from nearby rural districts for postponing the opening hour in the morning, there also have been requests for parents urging that the closing hour should not be set back because the boys and girls from the country are needed at their homes at the earliest possible hour in the evenings.

Under bus schedules already in operation in some rural districts through which Gettysburg high school buses pass, the high school pupils are now reaching here as much as 10 minutes late.

The Gettysburg school board at its session Monday evening gave Superintendent Keefeauver authority to adjust the school hour schedule to fit conditions. The new hours that become effective Monday will continue through the winter months, probably until March 1. It was stated today.

One case of scarlet fever is under quarantine in Gettysburg, it was reported today by Borough Health Officer Eric R. Deardorff. The patient is Mrs. Ethel Himes, Fifth street.

by Leoncavallo, revealed Mr. Roecker as not only a singer but an actor as well. As an encore to this number he chose an old Irish song, "Because I Was Shy," which he cleverly interpreted. The "Vision Fugitive" from Massenet's "Herodias" was artistically rendered. His pianissimo work in "None But the Lonely Heart," by Tchaikowsky, was lovely as it was in the entire group. His encore "When I Have Sung My Song" was also well received.

Warmly Received
The last group was concluded with a medley from "New Moon," in which Mr. Roecker was right at home. He is always outstanding in light opera. His interpretation of this number and his encore "Old Man River" from "Show Boat," by the Leoncavallo, revealed Mr. Roecker as not only a singer but an actor as well. As an encore to this number he chose an old Irish song, "Because I Was Shy," which he cleverly interpreted. The "Vision Fugitive" from Massenet's "Herodias" was artistically rendered. His pianissimo work in "None But the Lonely Heart," by Tchaikowsky, was lovely as it was in the entire group. His encore "When I Have Sung My Song" was also well received.

The Prologue from "I Pagliacci,"

Members of the Gettysburg Concert association were delighted with the first concert of the season, the presentation of Edward Roecker, a handsome young baritone, whose voice shows a background of good teaching and diligent application on the part of the singer.

Mr. Roecker, in his opening number, won his audience with his vibrant tones and appealing manner. His programme was well chosen and each number was greeted with enthusiasm.

His first group of English numbers and his second of German love songs proved Mr. Roecker to be truly an artist. The last number of the second group "The Two Grenadiers," by Schumann, was especially appealing.

Every passenger car and motorcycle owner in Adams county who wishes to continue the operation of the vehicles must register November 19, 20 or 21 at a school site, the location of which will be announced soon by the county War Price and Rationing board.

The dates were fixed Tuesday at a meeting of the rationing board's staffs of central Pennsylvania held in the Office of Price Administration headquarters in Harrisburg. District Manager Guy J. Swope had invited the officials to hear the details of the new mileage rationing program explained by T. Harold Dempsey, regional OPA representative, and Joe Davern, Pennsylvania tire specialist.

The serial numbers are the indented numbers on the tire walls. They are not to (Please Turn to Page 2)

MELIGAKES CASE OPINION UPHELD

An opinion was filed in the state Superior court today in Philadelphia by Judge Thomas J. Baldrige affirming the opinion of the Adams county court, written by Judge Watson R. Davidson of Franklin county, refusing to grant a divorce in the action by Nicholas A. Meligakes, local restaurant proprietor, against his wife, Mrs. Ruth Meligakes, also of Gettysburg.

The case was argued before the Superior court in Philadelphia about two months ago by Franklin R. Biggam, Esq., counsel for Mr. Meligakes, and Richard A. Brown, Esq., who represents Mrs. Meligakes.

The Meligakes action, which fills the most copious records of any divorce action ever handled in the county courts, has been pending for nearly three years.

It could not be learned today whether a further appeal to the state Supreme court will be taken.

Red Cross first aid class

A Red Cross first aid class—formed primarily for civilian Defense staff members but open to the general public—will be organized at the Gettysburg high school building on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced today by Robert D. Fidler, assistant chairman of first aid work for the county Red Cross chapter.

The class, being located at the high school for the convenience of CD staff members in the southern section of town, will be taught by John McCune, a student at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary who holds a Red Cross instructor's certificate and who taught several first aid classes in Harrisburg during the past summer.

The first first aid class for CD members was formed at the engine house Tuesday evening with Arthur E. Hutchison as instructor. Other classes will be formed at the Lincoln and Meade school buildings this evening.

Mr. Fidler also announced that on Wednesday and Friday evenings of next week, first aid classes for CD staff members and the public will be formed at Biglerville at the high school building at 7:30 o'clock. The instructors will be Miss Rebecca Sachs and Lewis Rice.

The Red Cross will offer 20-hour courses in all of the classes. Completion of the full course will lead to Red Cross certification while only 10 hours of training are required to qualify for the official CD arm band.

Resistance Collapses At Third Major African Center

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Allied occupation of French northwest Africa was near completion today with the request of the French commander at Casablanca for an armistice, but German air-borne troops and warplanes were reported to have landed in Tunisia, the buffer protectorate between Algeria and Libya.

The Vichy radio announced that Admiral Michelier, the French commander at the Moroccan port of Casablanca, had been compelled to ask an armistice because "after three days of fierce fighting all means of resistance are exhausted."

3rd Center To Collapse

Collapse of the fight there followed the surrender of Algiers on Sunday and the entrance of American troops into Oran yesterday. These were the three chief centers of resistance in Algiers and Morocco.

It was not known whether any British or American forces had yet succeeded in reaching Tunisia, said the Allied spokesman who announced the arrival of German forces there.

He said that the German movement had "been going on for some little time," but that the Nazi strength there was not known.

(At the same time the British radio, heard in New York, said Vichy had broadcast an announcement that Italian Marines had occupied the Tunisian Naval base of Bizerte.)

RABAT, CAPITAL OF MOROCCO, IS IN U.S. CONTROL

By WES GALLAGHER
U. S. Correspondent With the AEF in North Africa

Allied Headquarters in French North Africa, Nov. 11 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander-in-chief in North Africa, disclosed today that Rabat, the French capital of Morocco, is in American hands.

The disclosure was made when General Eisenhower ordered Maj. Gen. George S. Patton, the American commander on the Moroccan front, to place a wreath on the tomb of Marshal Louis Lyautey, founder of the French empire, at Rabat.

Commemorating the 1918 armistice anniversary, the Allied supreme commander offered a "solemn assurance" that the African empire would remain French.

(A United Press correspondent, whose report was made available to The Associated Press through a pooling arrangement of military authorities, said "American forces today assembled in the main square of the French Moroccan town of Rabat to pay tribute to the memory" of Lyautey on the French marshal's birthday. The ceremony was conducted before the tomb of the French hero, said the United Press correspondent.)

INVITE PUBLIC TO R.C. CLASS

A Red Cross first aid class—formed primarily for civilian Defense staff members but open to the general public—will be organized at the Gettysburg high school building on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced today by Robert D. Fidler, assistant chairman of first aid work for the county Red Cross chapter.

Vichy Says: Fleet At Toulon

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—The French fleet still is at Toulon, its Mediterranean naval base, the Vichy radio declared late today.

Juncture of the French fleet with the Allies in the Mediterranean probably would bring to the Anglo-American forces three battleships, seven cruisers, a sea-plane carrier, 25 destroyers and 27 submarines. On the other hand if they joined Axis forces they would be a big boost to Hitler's Naval power.

Ships believed based at Toulon include the 26,500-ton battleships Strasbourg and Dunkerque and the 22,180-ton Provence.

BULLETINS

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill announced today that Bougie, about 120 miles east of Algiers on the Mediterranean coast, had been occupied by Allied troops.

Vichy (From French Broadcasts), Nov. 11 (AP)—Italian troops arrived at Nice, on the French Riviera, this afternoon and an advance detachment continued to the west.

Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull today denounced the German invasion of unoccupied France as an act in complete harmony with Hitler's regime of lawlessness and utter disregard of solemn obligations.

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—The German radio broadcast a DNB report today that British and American nationals in unoccupied France have been interned on orders of the French government.

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Admiralty announced today that a British submarine had scored two torpedo hits in a "successful attack" on three enemy cruisers and three destroyers (Please Turn to Page 2)

HELD 6 MONTHS BY JAPANESE

Two Lutheran missionaries—both now on enforced furloughs because of the war—who met last in India where their families lived together for six months met again in Gettysburg Tuesday for the first time in five years, renewed acquaintances and exchanged accounts of their war-connected experiences.

The missionary is the Rev. Luther Slifer, Gettysburg college alumnus who came to Gettysburg with his family in April from India, and the other is the Rev. Dr. L. Grady Cooper, who returned to this country aboard the Grishelm last August after being held a Jap prisoner in occupied China for six months.

Conducts Chapel Service
Doctor Cooper with his wife and two children—Anne, born in India four years ago, and John, born two years ago—stopped overnight with the Slifers at their home on North Washington street while Doctor Cooper was enroute from Harrisburg to Baltimore. Doctor Cooper conducted the daily chapel service this morning at 11 o'clock at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary.

A missionary of the United Lutheran church for 14 years in China, Doctor Cooper was head of the mission at T'ing T'ing in Shantung Province last December. He was taken prisoner on December 8 by the Japs before he had heard of Pearl Harbor and was held for six months.

Axis Troops Head For Toulon And Tunisia

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—Goaded by the American coup in Africa, Adolf Hitler scrapped his armistice with France today, sent his grey-clad columns racing south toward Toulon and Marseille, and launched parachutists and air-borne infantry into French Tunisia.

Reports from Vichy said Marshal Petain declared the armistice no longer in effect (which could return undefended France to a technical state of war with the Axis), and that he would make no move to interfere with whatever resistance the French could put up.

Contest Over Tunisia

The wedge-shaped French protectorate of Tunisia, through which President Roosevelt asked passage for American forces from Algeria to Libya, was the first contested prize.

German broadcasts, perhaps seeking an excuse for Axis troop action, said Tunis, the capital city, "has been attacked by United States troops since Wednesday morning," and declared that the garrison there was resisting.

Axis forces already were there. An Allied headquarters spokesman said Nazi combat planes and air-borne soldiers "had been moved into Tunisia

FRANCE FREE TO DEFEND HERSELF, PETAIN ASSERTS

Vichy (From French Broadcasts), Nov. 11 (AP)—Marshal Petain was still at his headquarters in the Hotel Du Parc at 3:30 p. m. (10:30 a. m. EWT) today in conference with his principal lieutenants, the Havas agency announced.

Pierre Laval, chief of government, returned to Vichy by plane at 3 p. m. (it was not disclosed where he had been.) He was received immediately by the marshal.

A meeting of the Council of Ministers was summoned for 10 p. m. (5 p. m. EWT).

On the French Frontier, Nov. 11 (AP)—Marshal Petain declared today the French-German armistice of 1940 broken by the entrance of German troops into the former unoccupied zone and, according to information from Vichy, the aged chief of state left France free to defend herself.

Petain himself would remain in France, Vichy reports said, feeling that he had performed his task of guiding the nation so long as the armistice lasted.

Won't Interfere
He would not, however, interfere in any way with resistance by the French to the Germans.

One dispatch from Vichy said it was reported reliably there that the French fleet had left Toulon, was headed for the Atlantic coast.

Attack Across Channel Coming
The German government has known for 24 hours that plans of these operations (in North Africa) provide that the next attack will be made against Corsica, in order to occupy that island, and against the south coast of France," he said.

As German troops swept past Vichy and Italians moved in along the Riviera coast, Marseille was ordered under nightly curfew.

Italy showed her mounting alarm by ordering civilians out of her Liguarian seacoast from Genoa to La Spezia opposite Corsica.

Armistice Terms Violated
The terms of the Compiegne far-east armistice were violated by Adolf Hitler's order for a sweep by Nazi troops through unoccupied France and Marshal Petain protested quickly to German Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd Von Rundstedt. A Vichy radio broadcast appealed to the French people to rally behind the aged Petain.

Fighting French quarters expressed belief that not only the entire colonial army but the French fleet and a great army of political leaders as well might come into the Allied fold as the culmination of swift-moving events of the past 24 hours. One arm of the German forces (Please Turn to Page 3)

Group singing was led Tuesday evening by Dr. R. D. Wickerham. A roast chicken dinner was served.

Plans will be made for the next annual banquet of the club members on the eve of Armistice Day in 1943.

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Allied occupation of French northwest Africa was near completion today with the request of the French commander at Casablanca for an armistice, but German air-borne troops and warplanes were reported to have landed in Tunisia, the buffer protectorate between Algeria and Libya.

The Vichy radio announced that Admiral Michelier, the French commander at the Moroccan port of Casablanca, had been compelled to ask an armistice because "after three days of fierce fighting all means of resistance are exhausted."

3rd Center To Collapse

Collapse of the fight there followed the surrender of Algiers on Sunday and the entrance of American troops into Oran yesterday. These were the three chief centers of resistance in Algiers and Morocco.

It was not known whether any British or American forces had yet succeeded in reaching Tunisia, said the Allied spokesman who announced the arrival of German forces there.

He said that the German movement had "been going on for some little time," but that the Nazi strength there was not known.

(At the same time the British radio, heard in New York, said Vichy had broadcast an announcement that Italian Marines had occupied the Tunisian Naval base of Bizerte.)

Fleet Movement Unconfirmed
(A broadcast of the Berlin radio heard in New York reported that Tunis "has been attacked by the United States troops since Wednesday" and added that the garrison there is putting up resistance. "This was an obvious propaganda ruse to appear to justify the establishment of Axis forces in the French protectorate.

(Advices from Vichy said that unconfirmed reports were heard there that France's fleet had left Toulon and was believed to be somewhere off Corsica en route to join forces with the United Nations.")

Bizerte Important Base
The Vichy radio reported only that Tunis had an air raid alarm of an hour and a half this morning after a calm night.

Bizerte in Tunisia is the best and largest naval base in French North Africa and is about 40 miles from Tunis, the capital. The Tunisian coast is about 130 miles from Sicily, the shortest distance between French North Africa and Italy.

It was announced that Lieut. Gen. Kan Anderson is commanding British forces in Tunisia.

Vichy Says: Fleet At Toulon

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—The French fleet still is at Toulon, its Mediterranean naval base, the Vichy radio declared late today.

Juncture of the French fleet with the Allies in the Mediterranean probably would bring to the Anglo-American forces three battleships, seven cruisers, a sea-plane carrier, 25 destroyers and 27 submarines. On the other hand if they joined Axis forces they would be a big boost to Hitler's Naval power.

Ships believed based at Toulon include the 26,500-ton battleships Strasbourg and Dunkerque and the 22,189-ton Provence.

BULLETINS

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill announced today that Bougie, about 120 miles east of Algiers on the Mediterranean coast, had been occupied by Allied troops.

Vichy (From French Broadcasts), Nov. 11 (AP)—Italian troops arrived at Nice, on the French Riviera, this afternoon and an advance detachment continued to the west.

Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull today denounced the German invasion of unoccupied France as an act in complete harmony with Hitler's regime of lawlessness and utter disregard of solemn obligations.

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—The German radio broadcast a DNB report today that British and American nationals in unoccupied France have been interned on orders of the French government.

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Admiralty announced today that a British submarine had scored two torpedo hits in a "successful attack" on three enemy cruisers and three destroyers (Please Turn to Page 2)

HELD 6 MONTHS BY JAPANESE

Two Lutheran missionaries—both now on enforced furloughs because of the war—who met last in India where their families lived together for six months met again in Gettysburg Tuesday for the first time in five years, renewed acquaintances and exchanged accounts of their war-connected experiences.

The one missionary is the Rev. Luther Slifer, Gettysburg college alumnus who came to Gettysburg with his family in April from India, and the other is the Rev. Dr. L. Grady Cooper, who returned to this country aboard the Gripsholm last August after being held a Jap prisoner in occupied China for six months.

Conducts Chapel Service
Doctor Cooper with his wife and two children—Anne, born in India four years ago, and John, born two years ago—stopped overnight with the Slifers at their home on North Washington street while Doctor Cooper was enroute from Harrisburg to Baltimore. Doctor Cooper conducted the daily chapel service this morning at 11 o'clock at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary.

A missionary of the United Lutheran church for 14 years in China, Doctor Cooper was head of the mission at Tsing Tuo in Shantung Province last December. He was taken prisoner on December 8 by the Japs before he had heard of Pearl Harbor and was held for six (Please Turn to Page 2)

Axis Troops Head For Toulon And Tunisia

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—Goaded by the American coup in Africa, Adolf Hitler scrapped his armistice with France today, sent his grey-clad columns racing south toward Toulon and Marseille, and launched parachutists and air-borne infantry into French Tunisia.

Reports from Vichy said Marshal Petain declared the armistice no longer in effect (which could return undefended France to a technical state of war with the Axis), and that he would make no move to interfere with whatever resistance the French could put up.

Contest Over Tunisia

The wedge-shaped French protectorate of Tunisia, through which President Roosevelt asked passage for American forces from Algeria to Libya, was the first contested prize.

German broadcasts, perhaps seeking an excuse for Axis troop action, said Tunis, the capital city, "has been attacked by United States troops since Wednesday morning," and declared that the garrison there was resisting.

Axis forces already were there. An Allied headquarters spokesman said Nazi combat planes and air-borne soldiers "had been moved into Tunisia

FRANCE FREE TO DEFEND HERSELF, PETAIN ASSERTS

U. S. Speeds Cleanup
Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's powerful AEF was racing for a cleanup in Algeria and French Morocco.

French defenders of the key Atlantic port of Casablanca were reported to have asked for an armistice today after their defenses were shelled from the sea, dive-bombed from the air and assaulted by armored columns from the land.

From Algiers other American columns were reported striking southwest toward Tunisia and Libya, but a spokesman at the Allied headquarters said he did not know whether American or British troops were in Tunisia.

German and Italian troops alike moved into southern France while Marshal Petain, the hero of Verdun and the tired old man of Vichy, protested sadly and in vain.

Hitler Claims Guardianship
Hitler sought to undercut whatever resistance the French might yet offer. In a lengthy message to Petain he posed as France's friend. In a message to Frenchmen he cast himself in the role of their guardian against American attack upon Corsica and the French south coast.

"The German government has known for 24 hours that plans of these operations (in north Africa) provide that the next attack will be made against Corsica, in order to occupy that island, and against the south coast of France," he said.

As German troops swept past Vichy and Italians moved in along the Riviera coast, Marseille was ordered under nightly curfew. Italy showed her mounting alarm by ordering civilians out of her Liguurian seacoast from Genoa to La Spezia opposite Corsica.

Armistice Terms Violated
The terms of the Compiegne armistice were violated by Adolf Hitler's order for a sweep by Nazi troops through unoccupied France and Marshal Petain protested quickly to German Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd Von Rundstedt. A Vichy radio broadcast appealed to the French people to rally behind the aged Petain.

ATTACK ACROSS CHANNEL COMING

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—"An attack will be made in due course across the channel or the North sea," Prime Minister Churchill informed the House of Commons today.

"Such an attack," he said, requires an immense degree of preparation, vast numbers of special landing craft and a great army trained division by division in amphibious warfare.

"All this is proceeding, but it takes time." However, said the prime minister, "should the enemy become demoralized at any moment, the same careful preparations would not be needed."

"Risks would be run on a large scale," he declared, "but this certainly is not the case at the present time."

Discussing the African campaign Churchill said that General Sir Harold Alexander estimated the Germans and Italians have lost 59,000 men, killed, captured or wounded.

State Is Forced To Accept Tax

Harrisburg, Nov. 10 (AP)—Pennsylvania is accepting a $299.54 tax payment which it doesn't want—because the taxpayer insists.

The Tax department held that the American Sugar Refining company's operations in Pennsylvania were not taxable under the state's foreign franchise levy. The payment relieves the firm's shareholders from paying state personal property taxes on their earnings, so the company filed suit to compel the state to accept. County court ruled in its favor.

Dredging Bucket Used To Save Man

Monessen, Pa., Nov. 10 (AP)—A sleeping fireman was killed and a watchman was saved in a thrilling rescue last night after a double explosion wrecked a 50-foot gasoline tugboat and turned it into a mass of flames.

Horace M. Pope, 57, of the Northside, Pittsburgh, who had retired to his bed on the boat, was killed outright and sank with it.

As the flames shot high into the sky, lighting the downtown waterfront, George Kessler, 56, also of the Northside, Pittsburgh, was hauled from the inferno by fireman hoisted above the craft in the dredging bucket of a crane operated by Vernon Hixson of Monessen.

Hixson had witnessed the blast and quickly went into action.

Haines Not Depending Too Much On Soldier Vote To Overtake Gross

Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—Rep. Harry L. Haines, Red Lion, Pa., democrat, apparently defeated for reelection to the House by Republican Chester H. Gross of York county, Pa., isn't counting too much on soldier ballots to overcome the small margin by which he trails.

Haines, who has served ten years in the House and was defeated in 1938 by Gross, only to unseat the republican again in 1940, says he would like to be re-elected but will not be disappointed if the final count including soldier votes shows him the loser.

The soldier votes will be tabulated in the York-Adams-Franklin district on Friday. Haines said he was not sure what an earlier official count showed. One newspaper gave Gross 88 votes more than Haines and another 48, he said. The 348 soldier ballots could change the picture, but Haines is not optimistic.

TIRE INSPECTION DEADLINE SET

The first tire inspections under general order ODT No. 21, requiring all commercial motor vehicles to Carry Certificates of War Necessity, must be made between November 15 and January 15, under an amendment to the order issued by Joseph B. Eastman, Director of the Office of Defense Transportation.

The order as originally issued would have made it necessary for operators affected by the order to take their vehicles in for tire inspection before November 15, when the order goes into effect. The amendment makes an initial inspection mandatory before January 15.

After the initial inspection, tires of all commercial motor vehicles subject to the order must be inspected every 60 days or every 5,000 miles, whichever is completed first.

The order provides, moreover, that no commercial motor vehicle may be operated following a tire inspection unless the inspector has certified that all reasonable and possible adjustments, repairs, or replacements necessary to assure maximum conservation of the vehicle's tires have been made.

Inspections must be made at inspection stations designated for this service of the Office of Price Administration.

ODT and OPA officials urged commercial motor vehicle operators to take their vehicles in for tire inspections as soon after November 15 as possible in order to avoid a last minute rush on the inspection stations. Approximately 55,000 inspection stations already have been established and more probably will be set up.

HELD 6 MONTHS COLONEL TALKS

Doctor Cooper is now engaged in speaking tours in this country. months. Escaping personal abuse, he suffered the hardships of a winter in an unheated prison, with scant food and constantly guarded by armed Jap guards.

Some of his fellow-prisoners were beaten during their questioning by the Japs, Doctor Cooper said Tuesday evening in an interview with a Gettysburg Times reporter, and recounted many instances in which he had witnessed unprovoked abuse and brutality on the part of the arrogant Jap soldiers to the helpless Chinese.

"The treatment received by Jap prisoners seemed to depend upon the guards and whether or not they were drunk from celebrating Jap victories," Doctor Cooper said.

Doctor Cooper who has been in occupied China since 1938 believes the Japs cannot conquer the Chinese and is eager himself to return to his mission field. He hopes to return within two years.

New accounts of Japanese brutality are not exaggerated, Doctor Cooper believes, and he told of one instance in which a Chinese evangelist had been tied up and hung by his hands from the gates of a Jap-occupied city. The mission hospital cared for many Chinese farmers shot by the Japs as they worked in their rice fields.

Doctor Cooper's mission was bombed once and one building shattered in an attack claimed by the Japs to have been a "mistake" but believed by the Americans to have been an attempt to frighten them out of the area.

Mrs. Cooper is the daughter of Dr. W. H. Greer, secretary of the United Lutheran Church in America.

REARGUARD OF AXIS UNDER FIRE

Cairo, Nov. 11 (AP)—The British Eighth army, having driven most of what is left of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's army out of Egypt and into Libya, was engaged with Axis rearguard elements near Bagdad, some 30 miles east of the frontier, yesterday after breaking up a previous rearguard stand at Sidi Barrani, the British announced today.

The communique spoke of "enemy naval units" in the central Mediterranean, but did not indicate the strength of the formation or the direction in which it was headed. The attack took place Monday night.

AUTO OWNERS

be confused with any raised numbers appearing on the tires. Passenger car owners with more than five tires for each vehicle are required to dispose of these excess tires no later than November 21. Excess tires can be sold to the government by merely phoning the local office of the Railway Express agency.

Tire Inspection Required

The other important part of the registration is to obtain a tire inspection record to be used for periodic tire inspection. Motorists having "A" books will be required to have all tires inspected every four months, "B" and "C" book holders, every two months.

Those who fail to register at the time indicated will be subject to a call from the board after the registration date to explain why they haven't done so, and they may have their ration book revoked.

Mileage Rationing

The new "C" sticker will be larger and show the twenty classifications that are eligible for preferred mileage. Each "C" sticker will show the classification for which the driver qualified.

"Mileage rationing" is a combination of rationing tires and gasoline as a unit of mileage. Commercial vehicles and trucks were required to register with the Office of Defense Transportation and have their War Necessity Certificates by November 15, in order to qualify for gasoline and tires after that date.

Because of the severe scarcity of rubber those eligible for tires, both passenger cars and trucks, will be fewer under the new program than the present.

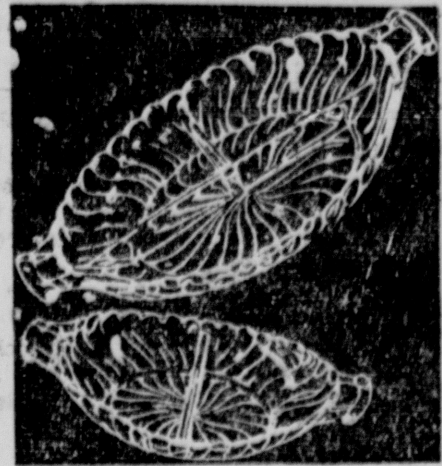

The new type of tires and classification will be Grade 1, Grade 2, Recapping, Used Tires and Grade 3, which will be known as the Victory Tire. The excess tires over five sold to the government will be reconditioned if repairs are needed. The old tires that were turned in some weeks ago, the rubber has been reclaimed and used for building Victory Tires.

Fleets consisting of three or more cars must likewise give up all tires in excess of five on each car. However, this does not apply to state, local or federal governments.

Trailers will be allowed tires on the wheels only.

The meeting was presided over by Reginald M. Tussing, acting rationing officer, and was attended by 150 men and women from central Pennsylvania.

South Penn Cage Loop Splits Into Two Divisions; Jayvee Games Are Banned

UNCERTAINTY OF TRAVEL CAUSES LEAGUE SHAKEUP

At a meeting of officials of the Southern Pennsylvania Interscholastic athletic conference Tuesday evening at the James Wilson hotel, Carlisle, a decision was reached to split the basketball league into two divisions for the coming season due to transportation difficulties in meeting schedules.

The southern division of the league will include Gettysburg, Waynesboro, Chambersburg and Hanover.

In the northern loop will be Mechanicsburg, Carlisle, Shippensburg and Hershey.

Abandonment of jayvee league games was also decided upon in order that fewer players will have to be transported. It was recommended that varsity squads be kept to a minimum in order that only two cars will be necessary on trips.

One-Game Playoff
Victors of the two divisions will meet in a one-game playoff for the league championship.

As the result of action taken at the meeting each team will play a six-game league schedule. One game will be played each week and most games are being re-arranged in order that contests may be played on Friday evenings.

Officials at Gettysburg high school indicated today that a maximum schedule of 12 games will be carved for the Maroons with a possibility that only 10 games may be played. Re-adjustment of the schedule is now underway and the full schedule is expected to be announced within a week. Last year the Maroons played a regular schedule of 21 games.

Preliminary Games
Intramural contests are expected to be played as preliminary games for the varsity tilts.

Thirty officials, including all high school principals and faculty managers, and most coaches attended the meeting. Ralph Shockey, Chambersburg, president of the league, presided.

Representing Gettysburg high school were Prof. Guile W. Lefever, John Black and Coach George Forney.

A tentative football schedule for the 1943 season was approved at the meeting.

SPORT SHORTS

Atlanta, Nov. 11 (AP)—Buck Cheves, veteran football referee, relates one for the book from the Clemson-Georgia Washington game at Clemson last Saturday.

Clemson tried a forward pass that became a lateral and the receiver muffed the ball. Referee Cheves did not blow his whistle. No one tried to recover the ball. Finally the Clemson captain picked it up and walked over to Cheves.

"Can I run with this thing?" he asked.

"Yeah, if you're not too tired," Cheves replied.

The Clemson captain cleared out and almost made the goal before he was tackled.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 11 (AP)—President Herman Lee Donovan of the University of Kentucky says he doubts if colleges and universities will be able to continue football until after the war is over.

"By next March," he adds, "the boys of 18 and 19 will be in the Army if they are physically fit, and by next year this time, the only men left in the universities will be those who can't pass the Army physical examination, and they don't form very promising football material."

Steelers Play Ft. Knox In Benefit

Pittsburgh, Nov. 11 (AP)—Sponsors of a USO canteen benefit football game between the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League and the Fort Knox (Ky.) Armoreders at Pitt stadium next Sunday afternoon reported a big rush today for tickets.

All but $2,000 to cover expenses of the Fort Knox boys, all members of the U. S. Army, will go into a fund to help establish a huge canteen at the downtown Pennsylvania railroad station here.

Joe Bach, former coach of the Steelers, and Art Strutt, formerly of Pittsburgh, coach the Armoreders, who have won but one game to date, a 20-6 triumph over Marshall college. Bach said, however, the team is now getting needed practice and predicted it would be a good match for the Steelers. Pittsburgh defeated Detroit 35 to 7 Sunday at Detroit.

HELD FOR THEFT

Harrisburg, Nov. 11 (AP)—Martin H. Rutt, Jr., Lemoyne, was under $3,500 bail today, charged with the theft of supplies and materials at the $40,000,000 Naval supply depot at Mechanicsburg, Pa., U. S. Commissioner Sidney Friedman reported.

Dukes And Panthers Seek To Recover

Pittsburgh, Nov. 11 (AP)—The tottering Duquesne Dukes and Pittsburgh Panthers settled down to some hard, long football training sessions this week in hopes of recouping some of their prestige, lost in recent games.

Coach Charley Bowser put the Panthers through a second long workout of blocking and tackling today, letting Center George Allsouse and Halfback Tony Di Matteo rest in hopes their bad legs may mend for Saturday's clash here against Nebraska.

Coach Buff Donelli at Duquesne had Center George Istvan and Halfback Max Kleibassa out with bad legs also, but planned to take them south tomorrow night in hopes they will be ready for Mississippi State.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 11 (AP)—If you're interested in getting some kind of exercise besides shoveling coal and splitting wood this winter, this department can inform you that there will be skiing as usual on New England's snow-covered hills and various other places.

Most of the real experts with the slippery bedslats are in the Army—Torger Torkle, Walter Prager, Everett Bailey, Ed Blood, Harold Sorenson and Birger Torrisen, to name just a few—so there won't be much competition.

But for folks who think such things are fun, the New Hampshire and Vermont ski centers will open in December. . . . And at Manchester, Vt., they've even rigged up a trail with an electric timer where you drop a nickel in the slot, start when the green light shows and get a ticket with your time printed on it at the finish.

BENCHED FOR GOOD

You've heard about the football player who busted his leg falling off the bench at an exciting moment.

Well, Angel Werner, little Venezuelan who plays for the Oldham jayvees, cracked two vertebrae in his back while sitting on the bench recently. During a game with Central Teachers, Charles Heard was tackled and tossed across the sidelines, pinning Werner against the bench.

And George Parker, line coach at Washburn U., was treating an injured player on the sidelines when a wandering pass receiver stumbled into him, gashing the top of Parker's head, breaking his glasses and ruining a new hat.

SERVICE DEPT.

Sammy Scheer, the tight manager, was drafted in the other war and inducted into the Army Nov. 11. As soon as he reached camp, he was sent home because the Armistice had been signed. Now Sammy has been called again and told to report for induction today.

Lieut. Tommy Harmon and Pvt. Bob Westfall, former Michigan teammates, met again on Michigan's Ferry field the other day. Both were home on furloughs and headed for the old stamping ground.

Pat Livingston, who has just begun training for a Navy commission, is the fourth Pittsburgh Steelers' publicity man to don Uncle Sam's uniform. Others are Ensign Jack McGinley and soldiers Jim Carroll and Johnny Maher.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "A healthy rivalry between the services is all for the good of the service. As soon as the word got around about the naval exploit at Franklin Field, the Army cut loose in Africa."

TIP-TOP TIPS

Jack Stevens, the Sportscaster, who knows a bit about Boston college football, says this year's Eagles are better than the 1940 Sugar Bowl team.

Red Heard, Louisiana State's athletic director, picked Georgia Tech over Georgia, even after hearing that 75-0 score last Saturday. He figures Tech has been playing harder opposition right along. . . . Ned Irish, the basketball man, thinks Joe Muha of V.M.I. could play on anybody's all-America team. "He was a great back when he visited the Giants' camp with his brother about three years ago," Ned says.

Pittsburgh Tries Pro Wrestling

Pittsburgh, Nov. 11 (AP)—Professional wrestling returns to Pittsburgh for a trial next Friday night after several years absence, billed by Matchmaker Jake Mintz of the Rooney-McGinley company as "a colossal exhibition with theatricals thrown in."

The main event will match "The Swedish Angel, ugliest man in the mat game" with Macaluso, former Colgate football player.

The first general conference of governors of the United States was held at the White House in 1908 when Theodore Roosevelt was president.

BALL-STEALING MAY AID ILLINI IN BUCKEYE TILT

Chicago, Nov. 11 (AP)—Illinois' ball-stealing Illini, grown adept at scoring touchdowns in this manner, may go on to steal a share of the Western conference football championship this week.

They meet powerful Ohio State at Cleveland's Municipal stadium Saturday and a victory would be in keeping with the surprising Illini's first season under Ray Elliot.

Yet success may depend entirely on their pet trick—ball-stealing. In virtually every other respect Ohio State was given the edge.

Statistics released today by the Big Ten bureau showed that the Buckeyes, led by Gene Fekete and Paul Sarringhaus, not only were averaging twice as much total yardage a game as the Illini (362 to 176), but excelled, too, at defense, at which they were second to Minnesota.

Holds Passing Edge

Only at forward passing did Illinois hold an edge. And this could be attributed to the fact that the Buckeyes, with one of the strongest running games in the nation, often did not need to resort to passes.

So, with the possibility of pass interceptions limited, the Illini must either capitalize on their own aerial attack—now crippled by injuries to Dick Good and his successor, Art Dufelmeyer—or they must steal the ball.

That Illinois is proficient enough at this will be attested to by both Minnesota and Northwestern. Against the Gophers, Alex Agase, a guard, stole and raced to a touchdown. Elmer Engel, an end, duplicated the feat against Northwestern.

Saturday's game will end the conference season for Illinois, now tied with Ohio State and Iowa for first place, each with three victories and a defeat. Ohio State has yet to play Michigan and many observers believe the tight title race will not be greatly clarified until then—unless, of course, the Illini steal the play this week.

ALGERIA SERVES AS SUPPLY PORT

By JOHN E. LEE
(U. S. Correspondent With the AP in Africa)

(Distributed by The Associated Press)
United States Naval Headquarters, Algeria, Nov. 9 (Delayed)—United States naval units are making rapid progress in converting this tiny harbor into an effective supply port.

A small dock area which yesterday morning echoed with artillery and machinegun fire is now bursting with activity. Military supplies of all descriptions are being hastily unloaded from ships tied up to berths to provide the field forces with adequate supplies—ammunition, vehicles, food and other necessities.

This job is one of the most difficult and most important amphibious operations, since the assaulting forces have to start from scratch with only such equipment and supplies as can be brought from the water to the beaches.

As a result of this tireless activity under the Navy's guiding eye, a remarkably large fleet of U. S. Army trucks and jeeps now is traveling the Algerian countryside, delivering goods where they are needed most.

The most attractive cargo I have witnessed was a group of American nurses who went ashore to take up their duties.

Twice during the day enemy planes flew over, dropped a few bombs in the water and attempted to strafe anchored ships.

Anti-aircraft guns bellowed and as far as I could see, the attack failed to cause any appreciable damage.

Following the fall of Oran, U. S. naval authorities rushed preparations to take over the harbor facilities there and place them in operation under United States control.

MOTHER EXPLAINS TRAGEDY

Waynesburg, Pa., Nov. 11 (AP)—An autopsy disclosed that the two-year-old Henry Morbit, crippled son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Morbit of town hall, was dead before he was placed in a reservoir near Carmichael three weeks ago. Sheriff Walter Glenn reported. The sheriff quoted Mrs. Morbit, 25, as saying she had found her son dead in bed, became "panic-stricken" and placed the body in the reservoir. It was discovered Monday by a farmer.

Among them will be the wives of Governor James and Governor-elect Martin. The convention closes Thursday night with a banquet at which James and Martin are scheduled to speak.

Letterkenny Depot Will Train Women

The U. S. Civil Service Commission announced today that women are needed for trainee positions at the Letterkenny Ordnance depot at Chambersburg. Applicants must have had at least two years of college training either in mechanical engineering, physics or chemistry.

Persons selected will be trained on the job and also sent to school for additional training. The starting salary for the positions is $1,620. It was announced, with the statement that persons will be carried in a pay status while receiving training. The positions are available immediately, the announcement stated.

Persons interested should apply to Arthur W. Warman, secretary, U. S. Civil Service Board of Examiners at the Gettysburg post office or address an inquiry to the Civil Service representative at the Letterkenny depot.

AFRICAN DRIVE NO BAR TO MORE ACTIONS—F.D.R.

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Axis powers had a warning from President Roosevelt today that the American campaign in north Africa is no bar to future offensives elsewhere.

Where or when they might come, he naturally did not disclose. But he told a press conference late yesterday that the limiting factors for a big offensive no longer are in operation.

These factors, as Mr. Roosevelt outlined them, centered in the problems of large-scale production of weapons, the training of adequate military forces, and the transportation of men and equipment to fighting fronts.

Explains Plans

Chronologically, the chief executive explained how plans for the African campaign developed, how the points of attack were decided last July, and the approximate date set last August. There was no thought of the election at the time, he said in reply to a question.

The inception of the first major American operation of the war goes back to the time, a fortnight after Pearl Harbor, when the President asked Prime Minister Churchill of Britain to come to Washington with some of his war staff. They discussed then the desirability of various offensives.

A large frontal attack on the German-controlled coasts of Belgium and France, striking across the English channel, was considered. The more it was studied, the more it became apparent, Mr. Roosevelt said that physical limitations would make such a stroke impossible before mid-1943.

When Churchill came to Washington again late in May, the President said, they weighed a large-scale offensive for 1943 against a smaller one for 1942 which would present fewer difficulties as regards men, munitions and ships.

Agreed on Africa

By the end of June there was general agreement on the African venture and by late July certain fundamentals had been decided on, such as points to hit, the numbers of men needed, and the quantities of manufacturing and shipping required. Late in August, the chief executive disclosed, the approximate date was picked.

Meanwhile, although a second front actually had been mapped out, Mr. Roosevelt said he and Churchill had had to sit back and smile or take it on the chin when people began to demand a second front.

Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov's visit to Washington apparently coincided with completion of the advance preparations for the north African campaign. After Molotov returned to Russia, he and Mr. Roosevelt issued a joint statement saying they were in agreement on the factors involved in opening a second front.

It can be assumed, the President said, that our fighting Allies were consulted before anything was done. He said, too, that details had been mapped out before Churchill went to Moscow to confer with Joseph Stalin.

ELIGIBLE FOR COMPENSATION

Harrisburg, Nov. 11 (AP)—Under a state Justice department ruling, members of the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps auxiliary today were eligible for compensation if injured while on active duty.

SWIFT OKAY OF 'TEEN-AGE BILL' IS EXPECTED

Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—Administration leaders expect swift Senate approval tomorrow of the "teen-age draft bill," stripped of a controversial clause which would have required a full year's training before a soldier under 20 could be sent abroad to fight.

With a minimum of debate, the House shouted its approval of the revised bill yesterday after a joint conference committee had eliminated the year's training amendment. The general staff contended the proviso, inserted by the Senate, would prevent the most efficient use of the 18 and 19 year olds who would be subject to induction under the bill.

The Senate adopted the training provision on Oct. 24 by an eight-vote margin, 39 to 31, with 26 members either absent or not voting.

The bill, as finally accepted by the House, provides that necessary farm workers, regularly employed, shall be deferred from induction as long as they remain on the farm "and until such time as a satisfactory replacement can be obtained."

High school students of 18 and 19 called up during the last half of the academic year would be eligible for deferment until the end of the semester. Men who had reached their 45th birthday, could not be drafted without their consent.

The compromise measure struck out a House provision under which all single men in a given state would have to be called up before any married men could be taken.

More Difficult For Japs To Land Aid

Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—General Thomas Holcomb, Marine commandant, reported Tuesday that "things are shaping up" so that it will be increasingly more difficult for the Japanese to put reinforcements on Guadalcanal island in the Solomons.

Holcomb, who has just returned from a visit to Marine posts in the south Pacific, disclosed that the original Marine division which went into the Solomons to begin the first American offensive of the war, was still on front line duty there—a three months' period of such duty which he said probably set a record for unbroken service under fire for Marine outfits.

"The boys on Guadalcanal are tired and there isn't any doubt about it," Holcomb said. He added that some break down and have to be removed.

Harrisburg, Nov. 11 (AP)—Pennsylvania's army of air raid protection volunteers today totaled more than 550,000 persons, approximately 230,000 short of the goal.

Counties reporting the largest gains, and their new totals, are: Allegheny, 74,528; Berks, 12,330; Carbon, 5,148; Clearfield, 5,069; Crawford, 3,094; Forest, 359; Franklin, 2,773; Indiana, 2,943; Jefferson, 3,940; Lackawanna, 14,387; Lawrence, 3,212; Lebanon, 6,220; Lycoming, 4,384; Northumberland, 11,926; Somerset, 3,750; Sullivan, 406; and Warren, 2,228.

Philadelphia, which leads the state with 115,510 volunteers, reported no change last month.

LEWISBURG PEN IS 10 YEARS OLD

Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 11 (AP)—The Lewisburg federal penitentiary was 10 years old today, and believe it or not, the prisoners have observed the anniversary.

Warden William E. Hiatt said the inmates noted the date during an "athletic dinner" last week. Today they celebrated Armistice Day.

"The men assemble as they do each November 11 and, while facing east, observe a minute of silence as taps are played," Hiatt said.

Since the gates of the 27-acre enclosure closed on the first 105 inmates, 13,192 prisoners have been admitted and 11,989 discharged. The first warden was Major Henry C. Hill, now head of the White Hill Industrial School for Boys. Hiatt was appointed in 1940.

The institution was authorized by Congress in 1930 to ease crowded conditions in other federal prisons. At first it was used for all types of offenders and had a typical prison population.

However, the program was changed later and today it is designed for young potential offenders and older, stable prisoners.

In 1934 the institution adopted a classification system under which administrative and professional members of the staff each week review information about new inmates and develop suitable programs for them.

About 400 inmates are employed in the three large industrial buildings where war products are manufactured. Others work on a farm on the 900-acre reservation, where all the milk and most of the vegetables and pork for the prison tables are produced.

Expert instructors train men in war jobs such as blue print reading, mechanical drawing, shop mathematics, and diesel engine work.

"I've Been In Action," Says Marine Who Killed 200 Japs

Philadelphia, Nov. 11 (AP)—Marine Private Albert A. Schmid of Philadelphia is in a Naval hospital in San Diego today with one eye gone and another badly damaged—and his parents here finally have learned what he meant when he casually told them, "I've been in action."

Schmid, the Navy revealed yesterday, killed 200 Japs in one bloody night in the Solomons.

Adolph Schmid, a brewery worker, and his wife said their 23-year-old son telephoned them last week but mentioned only casually that he'd done some fighting. His story, as released by the Navy, said he and two buddies manning a machine-gun stopped a Jap onrush in its tracks, without help.

"Hundreds of Japs were ranged up on the other side (of a river), hell bent on getting across," he said.

"We knew that if they succeeded hordes of Japs would quickly be dividing, surrounding and wiping out our forces. So we just kept that gun belching back and forth."

Hours later, after they had taken shelter, wounded, in a shell crater, and the attack had died down, two lieutenants found them.

"The Japs had failed to get through," Schmid related. "Their attack had been a flop. The fellows told me that I myself had mowed down more than 200 of them."

WOULD SUSPEND SUIT
Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—A recommendation by Representative Cole (D-N.Y.) for suspension of the government's anti-trust suit against the Associated Press brought a reply from Attorney General Biddle that no legal means exists for such action.

Armistice Anniversary
"Just Another Day" For U. S. Troops In England

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—Armistice Day was "just another day" for United States troops in Britain and the British generally let the day pass unobserved, but for the fighting French it was a day of new pain and new hope.

Their organization here had asked the people of the homeland to note the day with a hush and a prayer. Frenchmen in the unoccupied zone had been asked to avoid provoking the Gestapo and the police. But to pay honor to the dead of that first World war.

Today there was no unoccupied zone. The German army was moving in.

In London, the fighting French planned to hold a rally in the big Albert hall with Gen. Charles De Gaulle, their leader, as the principal speaker. Units of the fighting French troops and Frenchmen from throughout the French empire were planning to attend.

King George VI cancelled the usual services at the Cenotaph, Britain's memorial to her war dead in London, and the government requested that other large services not be held.

Short services were being held, however, at St. Paul's cathedral and the unknown warrior's tomb in Westminster Abbey.

The Archbishop of Canterbury asked in a broadcast last night that all who could should pause at 11 a. m. and "remember and resolve." The customary two-minute peacetime period of silence, however, was not being signalled.

No ceremonies were planned for American soldiers in Britain. A voice at Army headquarters said: "It's just another day for us."

$896,528 Worth Of Free Food Provided

Harrisburg, Nov. 11 (AP)—Pennsylvania's needy in the third quarter of this year received $896,528 worth of free food under the federal food stamp plan, the Department of Public Assistance reported today.

Russell said that in counties not participating $504,359 worth of food was supplied by the Agricultural Marketing administration.

The department's monthly report showed that in September 4.5 per cent of the state's population, or about 441,000 persons, was dependent in whole or in part on general assistance and WPA, or 259,000 fewer than in September of 1941. The peak load was 1,817,000 in February, 1939.

CAMPAIGN FOR USO CONTINUES; FUND NEAR GOAL

Although originally scheduled for completion by today, the Adams county USO drive for $5,000 was being continued in all county communities with daily reports showing the total donations mounting steadily nearer the goal.

Today the fund contained $3,587.80 with 16 county communities and several sections of Gettysburg not yet heard from. Only $1412.20 is needed to reach the $5,000 mark.

Gettysburg contributions now total $1,206.12 while the contributions reported from other communities and rural areas amount to $2,381.68. Largest sum received Tuesday was a report of $301.39 from Arendtsville where more than $40 had been collected previously placing that town third from the top among the county towns' outside of Gettysburg.

How Towns Rank

Included in the figures announced today was the $613.33 received from the sale of "Penelope Ann," Democratic victory cannon which was turned over to the salvage campaign.

Organizations Donate
The Knouse corporation at Peach Glen has given $50 and the Monday Night Bridge club, Mrs. Lila Craig, treasurer, gave $25. The Little Thursday Bridge club, Mrs. E. W. Thomas, treasurer, contributed $10, and the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce has sent in a check for $10. Checks for $5 each have been received from Meade school, the St. James Mite society and the St. James Bible school.

Up to the present reports are lacking from Abbottstown, Biglerville, Bittingers, Brysonia, Centennial, Edgemoor, Fairfield, Florida Dale, Gardners, Hampton, Idylville, Irish town, Iron Springs, Latimore, Littlestown (excepting for the contribution made early in the summer of $36.26), Mt. ## Haines Not Depending Too Much On Soldier Vote To Overtake Gross

Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—Rep. Harry L. Haines, Reed Lion, Pa., democrat, apparently defeated for reelection to the House by Republican Chester H. Gross of York county, Pa., said counting too much on soldier ballot, to overcome the small margin by which he trails.

Haines, who has served ten years in the House and was defeated in 1938 by Gross, only to unseat the republican again in 1940, says he would like to be re-elected, but will not be disappointed if the final count, including soldier votes, shows him the loser.

The soldier votes will be tabulated in the York-Adams-Franklin district on Friday. Haines said he was not sure what an earlier official count showed. One newspaper gave Gross 55 votes more than Haines, and another 48, he said. The 349 soldier ballots could change the picture.

TIRE INSPECTION DEADLINE SET

The first tire inspections under general order ODT No. 21, requiring all commercial motor vehicles to carry Certificates of War Necessity, must be made between November 15 and January 15, under an amendment to the order issued by Joseph B. Eastman, Director of the Office of Defense Transportation.

The order as originally issued would have made it necessary for operators affected by the order to take their vehicles in for tire inspection before November 15, when the order goes into effect. The amendment makes an initial inspection mandatory before January 15.

After the initial inspection, tires of all commercial motor vehicles subject to the order must be inspected every 60 days or every 5,000 miles, whichever is completed first.

The order provides, moreover, that no commercial motor vehicle may be operated following a tire inspection unless the inspector has certified that all reasonable and possible adjustments, repairs, or replacements necessary to assure maximum conservation of the vehicle's tires have been made.

Inspections must be made at inspection stations designated for this service of the Office of Price Administration.

ODT and OPA officials urged commercial motor vehicle operators to take their vehicles in for tire inspections as soon after November 15 as possible in order to avoid a last minute rush on the inspection stations. Approximately 55,000 inspection stations already have been established and more probably will be set up.

HELD 6 MONTHS

Doctor Cooper is now engaged in speaking tours in this country. Months. Escaping personal abuse, he suffered the hardships of a winter in an unheated prison, with scant food and constantly guarded by armed Jap guards.

Some of his fellow-prisoners were beaten during their questioning by the Japs. Doctor Cooper said Tuesday evening in an interview with a Gettysburg Times reporter, and recounted many instances in which he had witnessed unprovoked abuse and brutality on the part of the arrogant Jap soldiers to the helpless Chinese.

"The treatment received by Jap prisoners seemed to depend upon the guards and whether or not they were drunk from celebrating Jap victories," Doctor Cooper said.

Doctor Cooper who has been in occupied China since 1938 believes the Japs cannot conquer the Chinese and is eager himself to return to his mission field. He hopes to return within two years.

New accounts of Japanese brutality are not exaggerated, Doctor Cooper believes, and he told of one instance in which a Chinese evangelist had been tied up and hung by his hands from the gates of a Jap-occupied city. The mission hospital cared for many Chinese farmers shot by the Japs as they worked in their rice fields.

Doctor Cooper's mission was bombed once and one building shattered in an attack claimed by the Japs to have been a "mistake" but believed by the Americans to have been an attempt to frighten them out of the area.

Mrs. Cooper is the daughter of Dr. W. H. Greer, secretary of the United Lutheran Church in America.

REARGUARD OF AXIS UNDER FIRE

Cairo, Nov. 11 (AP)—The British Eighth army, having driven most of what is left of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's army out of Egypt and into Libya, was engaged with Axis rearguard elements near El-Bug, some 30 miles east of the frontier, yesterday after breaking up a previous rearguard stand at Sidi Barrani, the British announced today.

The communique spoke of "enemy naval units" in the central Mediterranean, but did not indicate the strength of the formation or the direction in which it was headed. The attack took place Monday night.

AUTO OWNERS

Passenger car owners with more than five tires for each vehicle are required to dispose of these excess tires no later than November 21. Excess tires can be sold to the government by merely phoning the local office of the Railway Express agency.

Tire Inspection Required
The other important part of the registration is to obtain a tire inspection record to be used for periodic tire inspection. Motorists having "A" books will be required to have all tires inspected every four months, "B" and "C" book holders, every two months.

Those who fail to register at the time indicated will be subject to a call from the board after the registration date to explain why they haven't done so, and they may have their ration book revoked.

Mileage Rationing
The new "C" sticker will be larger and show the twenty classifications that are eligible for preferred mileage. Each "C" sticker will show the classification for which the driver qualified.

"Mileage rationing" is a combination of rationing tires and gasoline as a unit of mileage. Commercial vehicles and trucks were required to register with the Office of Defense Transportation and have their War Necessity Certificates by November 15, in order to qualify for gasoline and tires after that date.

Because of the severe scarcity of rubber (those eligible for tires, both passenger cars and trucks, will be fewer under the new program than the present).

The new type of tires and classification will be Grade 1, Grade 2, Recapping, Used Tires and Grade 3, which will be known as the Victory Tire. The excess tires over five sold, to the government will be reconditioned if repairs are needed. The old tires that were turned in some weeks ago, the rubber has been reclaimed and used for building Victory Tires.

Fleets consisting of three or more cars must likewise give up all tires in excess of five on each car. However, this does not apply to state, local or federal governments.

Trailers will be allowed tires on the wheels only.

in silence in memory of the men who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War. In brief remarks Commander Brame recalled the first Armistice Day "when this war-torn world turned to peace." He continued: "Now we are engaged in another great war to achieve the peace we thought we had won 24 years ago. We won the war but lost the peace." Commander Brame then read a letter written by an officer of the Wasps to his 3-year-old son just before that carrier was destroyed.

Chorus Sings
A high school chorus directed by Miss Dorothy Brindle, supervisor of music in the Gettysburg public schools, sang "Your Land and My Land" and Kipling's "Recessional." John Shoop sang the solo part in the second selection.

Colonel Oliver's address followed. The assembly sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and after a bugler sounded taps the colors were retired and the exercises closed.

Local observance of Armistice Day will be completed this evening when the Legionnaires stage a dance and party this evening at the Legion home.

ROECKER

Jerome Kern, was splendid and each was received with vociferous applause.

Another encore "The Rich Man," by Hageman, was well done and brought hearty response from the audience. The concluding number "Low Down" was by Louis Shenk, to whom Mr. Roecker gives all credit for his diet and phonetics. There was not a word in any language on the programme which could not be understood by his listeners.

Paul Bert, splendid in his role of accompanist, proved himself to be a pianist of rare ability also. His group of two numbers was so well received that the audience demanded an encore, for which he chose "Country Garden" by Percy Grainger. Mr. Bert has been in this country only four years. He received his musical education at the Academy of Music in Vienna, Austria. He fled just before his country was invaded by the Nazis. With such a glorious beginning for the Gettysburg Concert series, the year, members are looking forward with eagerness to the next two concerts. Erno Balogh, who will be here some time in February and Suzanne Stern, who will appear in March—N. S. S.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

ARMISTICE DAY—1918

We shouted: "It is over! Done the

the anguish and the pain!

Done the fighting and the dying!

War will never strike again!"

And we turned to celebration; danced

and sang the hours away.

But again the cannons thunder and

once more for peace we pray.

We who cheered can still remember

we were promised war would cease.

They would find with pacts and

pledges ways to give us lasting

peace.

Scarce our cheers had died away

Ere they'd started plotting, planning

wor the war we face today!

Will it be again, I wonder? Will the same old hates remain?

Will another generation have to go

to war again?

When this ghastly strife is ended

and the terms of peace are made

Will mankind be free from terror or

forever be afraid?

Today's Talk

THE LAST DEFENSE

During man's life, he both consciously and unconsciously builds

defenses to carry him through his

allotted time. He learns to be useful to himself by becoming useful

to others, thus accumulating earning capacity to house him and his family and to prepare against many

an unexpected emergency.

The next line of defense is to see

that his bodily life is protected, that

he gains pride in a strong body,

that he may bear well against disease and other tests, and that he may, through intelligent diet, make

that body give its utmost.

But the final line of defense—and most important of all—is his spiritual awakening and its alertness in peril.

Dr. William Osler—who was one of the world's greatest physicians—

hope and cheer. In one of his important addresses he stated: "Surviving the accretions of twenty centuries, the life and immortality

brought to light by the gospel of

the best portion of the race."

You may lose your health, you

may be wiped clean of your pos-

sessions—but that immortal living

thing called soul, planted in every

human being at birth, forever remains as the last line of defense for us all. Without it all struggles for any sort of security wither and pass

into nothingness. It is "that last

best hope of earth."

It is this last defense line, that

those who are fighting in the cause

world-wide tolerance, must hold at

all odds—and that must continue to be the fortress of hope so long as

this world exists.

The Salvation Army's designation

as to a man's temporary misfortune,

in that phrase "down—but not out,"

is applicable to every member of the human family. We are never permanently out until that spiritual line of defense has been shattered

and wiped out forever.

It is to hold—and make permanent—this last defense line—that

the armies of all the free nations

of the world are engaged in a struggle which we all hope and pray may make war forever at an end.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Providential Occurrences."

removes entirely the increasingly critical situation between Japan and

F.D.R. Promises Early Action To Insure Manpower Supply

SERVICES GOAL
FOR JAN. 1, 1944

Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt has promised action

within two or three weeks to insure an orderly supply of manpower toraise the strength of the four armed services to 9,700,000 by Jan. 1, 1944,
and still leave sufficient labor for farm and factory.The chief executive disclosed the over-all manpower needs of the Army, Navy, Marine corps andCoast Guard for the next 13½ months at a press conference yester-day and expressed the hope that 7,500,000 would prove enough for the Army by the end of 1943. He said the Army was now around 4,500,000.

Emphasizing he was speaking

only in round numbers, he added

the Navy would have to be increased in the same period from an existing 1,000,000 to around 1,500,000,

and the Marines and Coast Guard

from 400,000 to around 700,000—or

an aggregate increase for the four services of 3,800,000.

Manpower Legislation Looms

On Capitol Hill it was reported

that an administration recommendation for manpower legislation

probably would reach Congress in

solve the problem through semi-

official "cooperative controls."

House Majority Leader McCorn-

ack (D-Mass.) told newsmen that no legislative action would be sought this year.

The President gave no indication

of how he would deal with the problem, but the belief was general that

the War Relocation Commission's

management-labor policy committee and tighten existing governmental machinery rather than favor compulsory national service

legislation.

It seemed apparent to many officials concerned, however, that the drafting of 18 and 19 year olds

would not raise anywhere near

enough men for all military needs.

Source of Soldiers

Selective service officials have told Congress that 1,500,000 young men could be raised from the "teen age draft. This means that nearly

2,500,000 others must be found for

the fighting arms alone. Induction of married men without children is one method, but draft officials say these will not be taken

in large numbers until next spring

if the lower draft age proposal becomes law as now seems certain.

The President's discussion of the

NAZIS AND JAPS FACE INEVITABLE DEFEAT SAYS FDR

Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt, honoring the dead of past wars on this Armistice Day, declared at Arlington National Cemetery today that the German Nazis and their "appropriate associates, the Japanese" face "inevitable, final defeat."

"The forces of liberation are advancing," the chief executive asserted, adding that the "opponents of decency and justice have passed their peak."

Mr. Roosevelt made this forecast of Allied victory after placing a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier of World War I. Looking on was America's 82-year-old leader, hero of that conflict, General John J. Pershing.

In speaking at the cemetery, which is the burial place of thousands of dead of past wars, the President followed a routine of more peaceful years.

Referring to recent war developments, Mr. Roosevelt said the United Nations were being joined by "large numbers of the fighting men of our traditional ally, France."

"On this day, of all days, it is heartening for us to know that soldiers of France go forward with the United Nations."

"American soldiers," he said in his address, "are giving their lives today in all the continents and on all the seas in order that the dream of the Unknown Soldier may at last come true. All the heroisms and all the unconquerable devotion that free men and women are showing in this war shall make certain the survival and advancement of civilization."

Pittsburgh, Nov. 11 (AP)—Stricken by a heart attack while trying to see how long she could stay under water, 16-year-old Patricia Ann Marsh died yesterday in the Pittsburgh Athletic association swimming pool. Both her mother and a brother were in the pool at the time.

SPORTSMEN TO NOMINATE

Nominating of officers for 1943 is listed for the November meeting of the members of the Adams county Fish and Game association to be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the club rooms on Carlisle street.

About 45 out of every 100 persons in the United States in 1940 resided in towns of less than 2,500 population.

CONGRESSIONAL CHANGE LOOMS BEFORE SOLONS

Harrisburg, Nov. 11 (AP)—Reapportionment of congressional and legislative districts—bugaboo of Pennsylvania lawmakers—is due for another airing at the assembly session opening in January but Governor-elect Edward Martin said Tuesday that "if it can't be done quickly it won't be done."

The next chief executive said a group of lawmakers would prepare definite recommendations for the legislature but that he would not permit the matter to interfere with his plans for a short session in view of the war.

Martin Interested
"We'll get to reapportionment when we get things moving," Martin added. "I am much interested in the subject."

He cited the Republican platform calling for "fair and equitable redistricting . . . in order that existing injustices may be ended."

Reapportionment of state senators and representatives is mandatory after each U. S. census under the Pennsylvania constitution but it has not been done in 20 years.

The special session last summer approved a congressional reapportionment reducing districts from 34 to 33, a decrease resulting from failure of the state to keep pace with the nation in population gains.

Republicans want another change and argue that the new grouping helped three Democrats to retain their seats in last week's election.

The Democratic-controlled 1937 Legislature reapportioned the House and Senate but court action voided the effort because some political subdivisions were omitted. Several redistricting bills were introduced in the 1941 session but they died in committee. Republicans rule both houses at the next gathering.

Open Differences
Senator John M. Walker, Allegheny (Pittsburgh) Republican, started a reapportionment campaign in the 1941 assembly, declaring the senatorial setup was unfair due to one Philadelphia senator representing only about 75,000 while another had more than 400,000 in his district. He said at that time Republicans feared addition of another district would strengthen the Democratic bloc.

A similar situation exists in House districts. The Fifth district in Pittsburgh includes a population of 101,462 yet elects only one assemblyman while the First there has 58,323 inhabitants and two members.

ARMISTICE DAY PROCLAMATION

Harrisburg, Nov. 11 (AP)—Pennsylvanians were urged by Governor James to observe today as "an armistice on the home front during which all public and private acts may be weighed on the balance of a single question—Will it help win the war?" In a proclamation, the Governor expressed hope for "an armistice in which all factionalism, greed, ambition and special motives lay down their arms."

MURDER on the Campus

Chapter 20
New Murder

"What's up, Lake?" Hinton asked the detective, closing the door.

"That stool pigeon has been singing again, like I told you over the phone. He says he learned for a fact that Humphries and Riley Beckett got into quite an argument one night about a week before Humphries got bumped off. Humphries threatened to wreck on his debt if Riley doesn't quit hounding him."

"Well, Beckett tells Humphries, then, that if he tries anything like that he'll take care of him proper. How does it sound to you?" Lake concluded.

Hinton was silent for a moment. Then he said, "I hardly think Beckett is the kind of guy who'd bump anyone off for a gambling debt unless he particularly disliked the person."

Lake looked at his watch. "It's too early for him to be at the club. You'll probably find him at his apartment."

A slight drizzle was falling when Lake left headquarters with another detective. The streets were slippery and they had to drive slowly. Twenty minutes later they slowed down near the sumptuous apartment house where Riley Beckett lived.

Lake just turned off the motor when two men ran from the apartment entrance and dashed to a dark green car parked on the same side of the street.

Lake looked at them sharply. "Hey . . . !!" he began. I've seen one of those guys before.

Chase
The two men hurried into the green car and it slammed away just as a colored elevator operator rushed from the apartment shouting.

Lake stepped on the starter again, shifted quickly and turned his car about. "Bill," he said to his companion, "I think we better see what all the rush was about before we do anything else. We can offer apologies later if necessary."

They roared after the other car and closed in on it. When they were only a half block behind, the car ahead of them skidded on the wet pavement. The driver tried wildly to bring it under control and made the mistake of applying his brakes too suddenly. The car skittered off to one side, jumped the curb and crashed into a telephone pole.

Lake leaped out with drawn gun. "Okay," he said to the two men who were clambering shakily from the wreckage. "What goes on?"

He peered closely at one of them. "Well, if it ain't Buggy Nichols, himself. Watch these gentlemen, Bill, while I call for a squad car. Then we'll go back and see what caused all the excitement."

Lake had his squad car in less than five minutes. Then they all drove back to Beckett's apartment house. Lake pushed his way through a small crowd that had gathered in the lobby. Two policemen were there. One of them saluted. "What's doing, Barnes?" Lake inquired.

"It's Riley Beckett," the patrolman said. "Shot twice through the chest. Pretty bad. Here comes the ambulance, now."

"Beckett!" Lake exploded. "What's the pitch?"

"Simple robbery. It looks like Beckett nearly always had at least five grand around his apartment, and a couple of guys walked in on him a few minutes ago. Beckett must have put up some sort of fight and they placed him. He staggered out to tell the elevator operator and then collapsed."

"Well, I'll be—" Lake muttered. The ambulance men came in just then.

"We'll follow down to hospital after you," he told the young intern.

Death Intervenes
They raced down to General Hospital with siren wide open. Lake waited outside the operating room for the first report. He got it in an hour.

"Extremely serious," a surgeon said. "One of the slugs passed within a half inch of his heart, the other pierced a tip of his lung. He's got one chance in twenty-five."

Lake cursed. "Will he come to? Will he be able to talk, maybe tomorrow? I've got to ask him a couple of questions."

"I don't think he'll be in shape to do any talking, but we'll know better in a couple of hours. Want to stick around?"

"No," Lake told him disgustedly. "I'll phone you."

It wasn't until the next morning that they let Lake see Beckett. Dr. Cooper, the surgeon who had operated on him, cautioned Lake to be brief.

"I don't think he's going to make it," he said, "and if it weren't for the fact that you consider it so terribly important you wouldn't get in there at all."

Lake nodded and tiptoed into the room. Riley Beckett's eyes flashed weak recognition. "Don't speak too much—just answer my questions," Lake told him.

"Was it Buggy Nichols who shot you?" Beckett nodded his head. "Buggy and another guy."

"Riley—about that Phillip Humphries. Did he threaten to wreck on his debts?"

Beckett's pain-drawn face mirrored his emotion. "What're you trying to do, copper?" he whispered hoarsely. "You wouldn't be trying to pin something on a guy—kick him when he's down—would you, copper?"

The doctor placed a hand on Lake's arm. "I'm sorry. I can't allow any more, now. He's much too weak."

"But what if he dies?" Lake said irritably, outside the room.

"That's what I'm afraid of. If he gains by tomorrow I'll let you have another minute."

But Beckett didn't gain. He died that night.

URGES EARLIER XMAS MAILINGS TO SERVICE MEN

If many Adams county soldiers, sailors, marines and civilians who are serving in distant parts of the nation or the world are not to be disappointed at Christmas time, their friends must cooperate by mailing earlier than ever before and by addressing letters and parcels properly, Postmaster C. A. Williams said today.

He urged countians to use the compact and efficient V-mail envelopes for sending Christmas messages abroad. They are handled by the "most expeditious means" and are delivered much more promptly than mail through regular channels, he pointed out. The V-mail envelopes may be secured upon request at the local postoffice.

Gigantic Task
While only several hundred of them have been distributed to date, many more than that number have been received here from boys in the service, he stated.

Of the general preparations made for handling the huge volume of Christmas mail that is expected, Mr. Williams had the following to say:

"The Post Office department is starting the most gigantic task in its history—the movement of a deluge of Christmas parcels, cards and letters while maintaining the regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from our armed forces all over the world."

"Indications are that the volume of Christmas mail will be the largest on record. Already in September, latest month for which figures are available, retail sales had reached a level second only to the record month of December, 1941, according to the Department of Commerce. Such heavy purchases always pressage heavy mailings."

Need Cooperation
"The best efforts of the Post Office department alone cannot be enough."

In view of the wartime difficulties faced by the postal system. The public must assist. Arrangements are being made to add thousands of temporary personnel to postal staffs but this manpower is hard to find and is inexperienced. Facilities of railroads and airlines are heavily taxed by the movements of huge quantities of war materials and personnel. Extra trucks are almost impossible to obtain.

"The free mailing privilege extended to members of the armed forces has raised their mailings some 30 percent, it is estimated. Expansion of these forces is adding rapidly to the postal burden."

"The deadline already is past for mailing gifts to Army and Navy personnel overseas with assurance that the parcels will arrive by Christmas."

NAZIS AND JAPS FACE INEVITABLE DEFEAT SAYS FOR

Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt, honoring the dead of past wars on this Armistice Day, declared at Arlington National cemetery today that the German Nazis and their "appropriate associates, the Japanese" face "inevitable, final defeat."

"The forces of liberation are advancing," the chief executive asserted, adding that the "opponents of decency and justice have passed their peak."

Mr. Roosevelt made this forecast of Allied victory after placing a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier of World War I. Looking on was America's 82-year-old leader-hero of that conflict, General John J. Pershing.

In speaking at the cemetery, which is the burial place of thousands of dead of past wars, the President followed a routine of more peaceful years.

Referring to recent war developments, Mr. Roosevelt said the United Nations were being joined by "large numbers of the fighting men of our traditional ally, France."

"On this day, of all days, it is heartening for us to know that soldiers of France go forward with the United Nations."

"American soldiers," he said in his address, "are giving their lives today in all the continents and on all the seas in order that the dream of the Unknown Soldier may at last come true. All the heroism and all the unconquerable devotion that free men and women are showing in this war shall make certain the survival and advancement of civilization."

there. One of them saluted. "What's doing, Barnes?" Lake inquired.

"It's Riley Beckett," the patrolman said. "Shot twice through the chest. Pretty bad. Here comes the ambulance, now."

"Beckett!" Lake exploded. "What's the pitch?"

"Simple robbery, it looks like. Beckett nearly always had at least five grand around his apartment and a couple of guys walked in on him a few minutes ago. Beckett must have put up some sort of fight and they plugged him. He staggered out to tell the elevator operator and then collapsed."

"Well, I'll be—" Lake muttered. The ambulance men came in just then.

"We'll follow down to hospital after you," he told the young interne.

Death Intervenes They raced down to General Hospital with siren wide open. Lake waited outside the operating room for the first report. He got it in an hour.

"Extremely serious," a surgeon said. "One of the lungs passed within a half inch of his heart, the other pierced a tip of his lung. He's got one chance in twenty-five."

Lake cursed. "Will he come to? Will he be able to talk, maybe tomorrow? I've got to ask him a couple of questions."

"I don't think he'll be in shape to do any talking, but we'll know better in a couple of hours. Want to stick around?"

"No," Lake told him disgustedly. "I'll phone you."

It wasn't until the next morning that they let Lake see Beckett. Dr. Cooper, the surgeon who had operated on him, cautioned Lake to be brief.

"I don't think he's going to make it," he said, "and if it weren't for the fact that you consider it so terribly important you wouldn't get in there at all."

Lake nodded and tiptoed into the room. Riley Beckett's eyes flashed weak recognition. "Don't speak too much—just answer my questions," Lake told him.

"Was it Buggy Nichols who shot you?" Beckett nodded his head. "Buggy and another guy."

"Riley—about that Phillip Humphries. Did he threaten to Welch on his debts?"

Beckett's pain-drawn face mirrored his emotion. "What're you trying to do, copper?" he whispered hoarsely. "You wouldn't be trying to pin something on a guy—kick him when he's down—would you, copper?"

The doctor placed a hand on Lake's arm. "I'm sorry. I can't allow any more, now. He's much too weak."

"But what if he dies?" Lake said irritably, outside the room.

"That's what I'm afraid of. If he gains by tomorrow I'll let you have another minute."

But Beckett didn't gain. He died that night.

URGES EARLIER XMAS MAILINGS TO SERVICE MEN

If many Adams county soldiers, sailors, marines and civilians who are serving in distant parts of the nation or the world are not to be disappointed at Christmas time, their friends must cooperate by mailing earlier than ever before and by addressing letters and parcels properly, Postmaster C. A. Williams said today.

He urged countians to use the compact and efficient V-mail envelopes for sending Christmas messages abroad. They are handled by the "most expeditious means" and are delivered much more promptly than mail through regular channels, he pointed out. The V-mail envelopes may be secured upon request at the local postoffice.

Gigantic Task While only several hundred of them have been distributed to date, many more than that number have been received here from boys in the service, he stated.

Of the general preparations made for handling the huge volume of Christmas mail that is expected, Mr. Williams had the following to say:

"The Post Office department is starting the most gigantic task in its history—the movement of a deluge of Christmas parcels, cards and letters while maintaining the regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from our armed forces all over the world."

"Indications are that the volume of Christmas mail will be the largest on record. Already in September, latest month for which figures are available, retail sales had reached a level second only to the record month of December, 1941, according to the Department of Commerce. Such heavy purchases always pressage heavy mailings."

Need Cooperation "The best efforts of the Post Office department alone cannot be enough."

Now! A REALLY BEAUTIFUL Elastic Stocking

Here's an entirely new departure from the old-fashioned hot, heavy rubber stockings. These new Bauer & Black Latex stockings not only give your legs the proper support, but due to the patented process actually look like regular stockings. Seamless! No wonder doctors and patients alike endorse these cool light-weight stockings. Have your physician prescribe the proper type.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

ARMISTICE DAY—1918

We shouted: "It is over! Done the
the anguish and the pain!
Done the fighting and the dying!
War will never strike again!"

And we turned to celebration; danced
and sang the hours away.
But again the cannons thunder and
once more for peace we pray.

We who cheered can still remember
we were promised war would cease.

They would find with pacts and
pledges ways to give us lasting
peace.

Scarce our cheers had died away
Ere they started plotting, planning war the war we face today!

Will it be again, I wonder? Will the
same old hates remain?
Will another generation have to go
to war again?

When this ghastly strife is ended
and the terms of peace are made Will mankind be free from terror or
forever be afraid?

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

THE LAST DEFENSE

During man's life, he both consciously and unconsciously builds
defenses to carry him through his allotted time. He learns to be useful to himself by becoming useful
to others, thus accumulating earning capacity to house him and his family and to prepare against many
an unexpected emergency.

The next line of defense is to see
that his bodily life is protected, that
he gains pride in a strong body,
that he may bear well against disease and other tests, and that he
may, through intelligent diet, make
that body give its utmost.

But the final line of defense—and most important of all—is his spiritual awakening and his alertness in spirit.

Dr. William Osler—who was one
hope and cheer. In one of his important addresses he stated: "Surviving the accretions of twenty centuries, the life and immortality
brought to light by the gospel of Christ remain the earnest desire of
the best portion of the race."

You may lose your health, you
may be wiped clean of your possessions—but that immortal, living
thing called soul, planted in every
human being at birth, forever remains as the last line of defense for all. Without it all struggles for any sort of security wither and pass
into nothingness. It is "that last
best hope of earth."

It is this last defense line, that
those who are fighting in the cause
of human freedom, justice, and
world-wide tolerance, must hold at
all odds—and that must continue to be the fortress of hope so long as
this world exists.

The Salvation Army's designation
as to a man's temporary misfortune,
in that phrase "down—but not out,"
is applicable to every member of the human family. We are never permanently out until that spiritual line of defense has been shattered
and wiped out forever.

It is to hold—and make permanent—this last defense line—that
the armies of all the free nations
of the world are engaged in a strug-
make war forever an end.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject "Providential Occurrences."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Dedicated New Church Sunday:

The new St. Paul's A. M. E. Zion church, South Washington street, was dedicated Sunday with suitable ceremonies.

The services opened at six o'clock in the morning with an old time prayer meeting but the main exercises were at three o'clock. The program included the invocation by Rev. Paul R. Ponnus, Scripture readings by Dr. H. C. Allen and Rev.
W. B. Cline, and address by Dr. W.
A. Craville, and the dedicatory sermon by Dr. J. C. Crawford, bishop of the Philadelphia and Baltimore conference of the A. M. E. Zion church.

The windows were donated by Lloyd F. A. Watts, the Willing Workers' Club, Howard Thomas, Priscilla Carter and Evelyn Jackson,
the Rev. William J. Boyd, the pastor, is largely responsible for pushing through the campaign for a new building.

First Casualty List Is Given: (By Telegram) Washington, Nov. 5.—The first American casualty list growing out of an actual clash between the land forces of Germany and the United States came to the homes and hearts of this country today.

It reports three killed, five wounded and twelve captured or missing.
They were all infantrymen.

Returns to India: Many churchmen on Thursday evening attended a reception held in the First Lutheran church, Carlisle in frowel to the Rev. and Mrs. J. Roy Strook, who left on Saturday for India after an eight months furlough in this country in the interests of Lutheran education in India.

Gettysburg Dry Wave at an End:
Licensed dealers in Gettysburg were notified on Friday that could resume the sale of liquors. The departure of the Sixtieth Regiment Thursday left all the hotels and saloons of the town outside of the half mile zone of camp and the ban was at once lifted.

Redding-Knox: At seven o'clock on Thursday morning, Miss Bertha
M. Knox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Samuel Knox, of Gettysburg, and Bernard F. Redding, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Redding, of Cumberland township, were married at a nuptial mass in St. Francis Xavier church by Rev. W. F. Boyle.

Miss Mary Redding was maid of honor and Arthur Knox was best man. They will reside for the present at the home of the bride.

Now Has Diphtheria: Curvin Kroft, son of Pius Kroft, who was hurt in the accident at New Oxford several weeks ago, is still in the York hospital and now has his case complicated by the development of diphtheria.

Seventy-two Go to Camp Meade: Adams County contributed seventy-two strong and robust young men to the country's service in her hour of need on Tuesday morning when she sent her fourth contingent to Camp Meade. Once more the Western Maryland station was crowded with the friends of the boys and again there was another hearty farewell accorded them.

United States and Japan Agree
(By Telegraph) Washington, Nov.
6.—America and Japan have entered into a formal agreement reaffirming the Open Door policy in China, and recognizing Japan's special interests in that country.
The momentous document which makes this announcement possible was executed by Secretary Lansing and Viscount Ishii on November 2.

It will go down as one of the great developments of the World War.
Secretary Lansing declares that it removes entirely the increasingly critical situation between Japan and
the United States.

Democrats Win in Gettysburg:
With only few exceptions the Democrats carried the borough election in Gettysburg Tuesday. The three Democrats were returned to town council with large majorities. C. B.
Daugherty and R. P. Pankhouser in the First Ward; and Martin Winter, in the Second Ward. Calvin Gilbert and Harry S. Trostle were defeated, the new members of council being Harry Koch and Newton Lutzner.

Harry E. Bumbaugh was again chosen tax collector. J. L. Hill and J. A. Apple were again elected as members of the peace. John C.
Shaw was again chosen constable.

Two Societies Will Give Play:
"Damon Dabbs," a three act comedy, will be given by the Palm and Clover Leaf societies of the High School in Walker's Theatre on Friday afternoon, November 13th at two o'clock. The proceeds of the play will be given to the High School athletic.

Personal: Miss Emma Sachs, Miss Pearl Martin, Miss Emma, Gertrude and Grace Shaffer, Miss Vera Wahler and Albert Shaffer spent Sunday at Camp Meade.

Mrs. W. A. Craville, of College Campus, has gone to New Haven,

F.D.R. Promises Early Action To Insure Manpower Supply

SERVICES GOAL
FOR JAN. 1, 1944

Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt has promised action
within two or three weeks to insure an orderly supply of manpower to raise the strength of the four armed services to 9,700,000 by Jan. 1, 1944,
and still leave sufficient labor for farm and factory.

The chief executive disclosed the
Army, Navy, Marine corps and Coast Guard for the next 13½ months at a press conference yesterday and expressed the hope that 7,500,000 would prove enough for the Army by the end of 1943. He said the Army was now around 4-5,000,000.

Emphasizing he was speaking
only in round numbers, he added
the Navy would have to be increased in the same period from an existing 1,000,000 to around 1,500,000,
and the Marines and Coast Guard
from 400,000 to around 700,000—or
an aggregate increase for the four
services of 3,800,000.

Manpower Legislation Looms
On Capitol Hill it was reported
that an administration recommendation for manpower legislation
probably would reach Congress in January after one more attempt to solve the problem through semi-
official "cooperative controls."

House Majority Leader McCorn-
ack (D-Mass.) told newsmen that
no legislative action would be sought this year.

The President gave no indication
of how he would deal with the problem, but the belief was general that
the War Relocation Commission's management-labor policy committee and tighten existing governmental machinery rather than favor compulsory national service
legislation.

It seemed apparent to many officials concerned, however, that the drafting of 18 and 19 year olds
would not raise anywhere near
enough men for all military needs.

Source of Soldiers
Selective service officials have told Congress that 1,500,000 young men could be raised from the ten age draft. This means that nearly 2,500,000 others must be found for
the fighting arms alone. Induction of married men without children is one method, but draft officials say these will not be taken
in large numbers until next spring
if the lower draft age proposal becomes law as now seems certain.

The President's discussion of the
manpower problem was touched off
when a reporter asked whether the selective service system was going to be transferred to the war manpower commission as recommended by the WMC management-labor policy committee. The President replied that that was part of the whole question and that action could be looked for in a few weeks.

Legionnaires To Gather "Jalopies"

Philadelphia, Nov. 11 (AP)—A campaign to bring every "jalopy" in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia into automobile graveyards by November 30 was started today by American Legion members, auxiliaries and sons of the American Legion.

The drive was endorsed by Blanche Randall, Jr., regional conservative manager for the War Production board who said: "During the past six months auto graveyards have more than doubled their production, so that today a shortage of cars is only weeks away unless additional cars are made available quickly by the public."

FIRE CAUSES SHUTDOWNS
Pensburg, Pa., Nov. 11 (AP)— Fire that damaged material and equipment on the first floor of the Pensburg Vest Manufacturing company yesterday will cause a two-week shutdown of production, company officials said today. The fire, which burned personal belongings of 50 employees, was said by firemen to have started when oil leaking from a basement burner became ignited.

William Allison of Chambersburg street, left Monday for Baltimore where he joined the contingent for Camp Meade.

Mike Mary Grove, who has been doing Red Cross work at Syracuse, N. Y., has been transferred to Whitman, Georgia.

Clarence Bumbaugh, of the Constitution air station, Cape May, N. J., is visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mattie Bumbaugh, East Middle street.

Dorsey Sower and John Shultz, of Camp Meade, were visitors with friends over Sunday.

Flashes of Life

TRICKY FINANCE

Kansas City—Enos West was surprised when the stranger said that W. A. Julian, and not Henry Morgenthau, Jr., is the Treasurer of the United States. He was even more surprised when the stranger took two of West's dollar bills and pointed to Julian's official signature to prove his point. But he was most surprised of all, he told police, when the stranger ran away with the two dollars.

MULTIPLE BIRTHDAY

Dallas—The U. S. Marine corps celebrated its 167th anniversary.
Dallas leathernecks celebrated by signing their 167th recruit of the month, Thomas Childress, Marine Sgt. Raymond Daniell celebrated by cutting a birthday cake for the recruit. It was his 20th birthday.

OLD STUFF

Kansas City — Mrs. Vincent Hegen was happy to find after a long search, a pound of coffee on a grocer's shelf. She was happy, that is, until she opened it and found a coupon which said: "Sent 50 cents and this slip before April 1939, and get a pair of silk hose."

FIRE FAN

Denver—Two police cars and nine pieces of fire-fighting equipment pulled up at a busy downtown corner. Deputy Fire Chief Feldman leaped from his car and raced up to a man leaning nonchalantly against the alarm box.
Fire? What fire? There wasn't any fire. The man explained he had turned in the alarm because he liked to hear sirens.

FARMERS TOLD
NOT TO FEAR '43
LABOR SHORTAGE

Harrisburg, Nov. 11 (AP)—Pennsylvania farmers have the assurance of the U. S. Employment service that plans for 1943 crop quotas may be carried out "without any undue fear of labor shortages."

"We will utilize to the fullest degree every source of labor to meet their needs," commented H. Raymond Mason, U. S. Employment director of Pennsylvania.

School children, industrial workers, townspeople and women will be recruited "where necessary," he said.
"Thousands of farmers right now are planning their program for 1943," he added. "They know the farm labor problem . . . will undoubtedly be more acute next season, but production of food for America and her allies must not be curtailed for this reason."

He urged farmers to consult U. S.
Employment offices early so that action can be taken to meet their needs.

Farm placements increased from 1,600 in 1940 to 4,200 in 1941 and more than tripled this figure in the first nine months of 1942.

"This record indicates that the employment service can do the job for the farmers who bring their labor needs to us," Mason declared.

J. H. Wood, regional director of the Farm Security administration, had commented that a scarcity of farm labor in the east threatens to reduce production in 1943 and "seriously jeopardizes the war effort."

WILL REBUILD
BOMBED MALTA

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—The British government proposed Tuesday to give Malta, bomb scarred Mediterranean island, £10,000,000 ($40,000-000) for postwar rebuilding.

Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer, announced in the House of Commons that parliamentary approval for the grant would be requested. The House cheered.

FRENCH ARMY
UNDER GIRAUD
SEEN POSSIBLE

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—Appointment of Gen. Henri Honoré Giraud as leader of the anti-German, anti-Vichy French in north Africa was regarded in authoritative quarters here today as foreshadowing potentially great political and diplomatic as well as military consequences.

It was considered possible, although much depends on the amount of support which Giraud is able to rally, that the creation of a new provisional French government to which the United States would give formal recognition might be one of the ultimate results.

The primary reason for Giraud's selection for north African leadership unquestionably was military.
The 63-year old warrior, an able general, an expert on north Africa and the hero of six escapes from German prison camps, is widely known and greatly loved among French soldiers and people alike.

Help United Nations
For these reasons the Allied high command is reported to have felt that he, if anyone, could weld into a cohesive force the numerous anti-Vichy groups and individuals in north Africa, not all of whom, it is understood, have given their fullest enthusiasm to the French national committee headed by Gen. Charles de Gaulle in London.

The result of a successful conclusion for Giraud's efforts—and authorities familiar with conditions in north Africa, predict he will be eminently successful—would be to make this force available to the cause of the United Nations and also to give the Allies a vast area inhabited by a friendly, self-governing population from which to press forward their military operations against Nazi Europe.

French north Africa contains about 30,000,000 people, natives and French, among whom there are many thousands of trained fighting men, presently including some of Vichy's finest troops. A friendly attitude on the part of these people would make the task of the American and Allied armies in north Africa infinitely easier than if they were subject to prolonged harassment from a population divided in its allegiances and uncertain of its destiny.

Other Implications
Beyond these military gains expected from Giraud's leadership lie

the political and diplomatic implications of his appointment. Perhaps the most delicate question concerns the relationship between him and DeGaulle. On the personal plane it is said to be of the best as each man is reported to have high admiration for the other.

On the political plane, so far as can be learned here, it is an open question as to whether there is any alliance, understanding or even close liaison between the new French leader in north Africa and the author and central figure of the fighting French movement in London. None of the American or Allied announcements regarding the operations in north Africa has reflected any participation by De-Gaulle nor any connection between him and Giraud.

The rupture of United States relations with Vichy has clarified the diplomatic situation to the extent that the American government now is in a position to extend recognition to a French government which in the opinion of the President and State department truly represents the French people.

That such recognition will be extended readily when once the independent French have created such a government was indicated by President Roosevelt in a statement
Monday on the severance of diplomatic relations between Washington and Vichy.

Relations Not Severed
Mr. Roosevelt asserted that "no act of Hitler or of any of his puppets can sever relations between the American people and the people of France."

What will constitute a French government capable of winning the formal recognition necessary to implement the President's declaration of friendship for the French people possibly is known only to the President and Secretary of State Hull. It is certainly possible, however, that the most serious consideration would be given to a government-in-being in north Africa, possessed of much territory, a large population and a fighting force, whether it resulted from the efforts of Giraud alone or the combined work of both him and DeGaulle.

JAP POSITION IS ENCIRCLED

Washington, Nov. 11 (AP)—Carrying the fight to the enemy, American and Allied troops have encircled one Japanese position on New Guinea and apparently are holding the upper hand on Guadalcanal island in the embattled Solomons.

The western jaw of a vise which the Japanese had hoped to squeeze upon Henderson airfield—control spot of the Solomons—has been stationary for two days. This was interpreted as evidence that soldiers and marines have halted the original Japanese threat against the airfield from that quarter.

To the east American troops are pushing forward a drive to encircle
the enemy beachhead at Koli Point where reinforcements for the original invasion forces were landed.

The Americans advanced four miles east of the beachhead Saturday, Guadalcanal time, the Navy said, apparently isolating that eastern jaw of the vise.

HITLER SCRAPS 1940 ARMISTICE WITH FRANCE

headed directly toward Marseille, France's major Mediterranean port, and Toulon, her major naval base, by way of Lyon.

Italy said she was in full agreement with Germany on the necessity for this action on the 24th anniversary of the World War armistice, and Fascist forces moved into France.

For Italy, the occupation probably will mean even greater domination by the senior Axis partner, London diplomatic sources said. Communication lines of the French Riviera, however, will aid the Axis military movements.

Appeal to French Seamen
A British military source said that there had been no evidence lately of any reinforcement of the Nazi army in northern France and that this indicated all troops engaged in the new action would be drained out of the section occupied in 1940.

Allied broadcasters capitalized on the Nazi thrust.

BBC spokesmen appealed to French merchant seamen in the Mediterranean to sail to Algiers or Gibraltar or to scuttle their vessels. Instructions were once broadcast asking that the French people demonstrate, but this was countermanded later by a fighting French authority, who advised them to just attend church Armistice day services.

Virtually the last obstacles to British-American recognition of the refugee French cabinet vanished.

Significant Armistice Day
There was no longer the necessity, as described by Secretary Hull, to maintain the pretense of recognizing Vichy.

Direction of the French General Henri Honoré Giraud and possibly other eminent soldiers and statesmen, some already in north Africa, would provide the broad basis which some quarters maintain Gen. Charles de Gaulle has always lacked for a broad government in London.

"This is a most significant Armistice day," a British source said. "It must be remembered that 24 years ago on this date another German army was marching—marching back home because it had suffered a great defeat."

"Today we have another German army on the march—because it has suffered defeat. It augurs well for the Allied cause."

Axis radio broadcasts announced the developments on this 24th anniversary of the first World War armistice.

Cross Demarcation Line
By railway coaches and motor trucks, grey-uniformed units of the Nazi army of the west sped southward across the demarcation line. Contingents moved from near Chalons-Sur-Saone toward Lyon, the Rhone valley and Marseille.

An obvious port of destination for a major German force was Toulon, the French naval base which lies but 450 miles across the Mediterranean from Allied-occupied Algiers.

Berthed there are the remnants of the French fleet which Hitler has so long wanted to control—three battleships, four heavy cruisers, three light cruisers, a seaplane carrier, 25 destroyers, 27 submarines and sloops.

Hitler set forth the Axis position in two parallel communications.

One was addressed to "Frenchmen, officers and men of the French Army." The other was directed to Marshal Petain, the elderly chief of State who has picked up the command of Vichy's armed forces in succession to Admiral Jean Darian, a captive at Algiers.

Afraid of Invasion
Hitler said that the weakness of the French forces in the Mediterranean area would make it easier ground than the German-held zone for Allied invasion.

"The German government has known for 24 hours that plans of these operations provide that the next attack will be made against Corsica, in order to occupy that island, and against the south coast of France," he said.

"In these circumstances I felt compelled to order the German Army immediately to march through the unoccupied zone—and this is now being done—and to march to the point aimed at by the Anglo-American landing troops."

Again and again he insisted that, as far as the French were concerned, it was a friendly maneuver. "It has a single aim—to repel, together with its allies, any landing attempt by the Anglo-American forces," he said.

Immediate withdrawal of the troops across the line was pledged "as soon as the situation in the Mediterranean is improved to the point that it is no longer imperiling the interests of the Reich in maritime France."

The necessity for moving into the unoccupied zone was largely blamed upon Gen. Henri Honoré Giraud, the veteran French officer who escaped from Nazi imprisonment and is establishing a French north African army with U. S. aid to fight alongside the Allies.

Hitler assailed Giraud bitterly in his message to Petain as a French general who "during his captivity simulated illness" in order to escape and had decided "not only to fight from now on against Germany in

CHURCHILL HIGHLIGHTS

London, Nov. 11 (AP)—The prime minister's report today contained many joyous highlights, among them:

"His assurance that the Russians have borne the disappointment of no second front, and now they have reached the winter successfully."

His grim prediction that Italy will come now to a much fuller and bitter realization of the realities and horrors of war.

His disclosure that Nazi Field Marshal Rommel's army has suffered a "mortal blow" in Egypt with the loss of at least 59,000 of its men, 500 of its tanks and 1,000 of its guns of all types.

the services of the Anglo-Saxon nations, the authors of the aggression, but also against his own country."

Laval was reported earlier to have left Vichy, presumably summoned by Hitler to receive an ultimatum on account of the capitulation of Algiers and the precarious situation of the remainder of French North Africa.

Armistice Provisions
(By The Associated Press)
The Armistice signed by French and German representatives June 22, 1940, after the defeat of the French Armies included the following provisions:

French land, sea and air forces were demobilized and disarmed and most of their weapons, including tanks, planes, guns and munitions, were ordered delivered to the German Army.

The French fleet was ordered collected in ports under German or Italian control, excepting those units released to the French for protection of the empire. "The German government," "solemnly declared" it did not intend to use the French war fleet for purposes of war.

The French government was ordered to furnish any portion of its remaining armed forces to undertake hostilities against Germany in any manner.

Air fields and ground facilities for the air force in unoccupied France were ordered turned over to German and Italian control.

The French government was placed under obligation to pay the costs of maintaining German occupation troops on French soil.

French troops in German prison camps were to remain prisoners until conclusion of a peace.

The armistice was made subject to termination at any time if the French government failed to fulfill its obligations.

The Italian armistice provided further:

The French Naval bases at Toulon, Bizerte (Tunisia) and Oran (Algeria) were to be demilitarized within 15 days, rendering them useless for offensive or defensive purposes.

The French government was obligated to prevent warships, airplanes, war material and munitions of France from being sent to British territories.

FRANCE FREE TO

somewhere off Corsica and was believed enroute to join British and American forces.

Vichy had another report, given as an unconfirmed rumor, that French Alpine troops had fought with the Italians at the frontier.

Pierre Laval had not yet returned to Vichy after he was said to have conferred with Hitler and probably Premier Mussolini of Italy.

Laval at least was said to have come to an understanding with the Germans which would provide that the government sit in Paris.

Laval Changes
German troops spreading over the former free zone reached Vichy this morning, but did not immediately enter the city.

Hitler's decision to occupy all of France, Vichy accounts said, followed Pierre Laval's refusal to accept a military alliance with the Axis.

This either represented a change of heart by Laval, who publicly has expressed his hope for and confidence in an Axis victory, or hesitancy spurred by mounting hostility among Frenchmen to his program of collaboration.

A Vichy report said that the American colony there, including the embassy staff, was leaving by special train for Paris this afternoon. This followed an earlier announcement that the scheduled departure of the Americans for Lourdes had been delayed.

SELLS POULTRY FARM

Mrs. Lone Star Syphax has sold her poultry farm of 10 acres along the Hanover road, two miles from Gettysburg, to two trained nurses, the Misses Hannah C. Ullrich and Dorothy June Cohen, both of Baltimore. Miss Ullrich formerly was from Bendersville. Possession will be given on December 1. Mrs. Syphax also sold an acre and a half to Arthur D. Keefer and an equal amount of land to Cyrus Keefer of Gettysburg. The sales were made by C. A. Helges.

ish troops, the vanguard of the several divisions sent to North Africa to reinforce the Americans, and that Air Marshal Sir William Welsh is commanding the RAF in that area.

French Naval forces which had comprised the backbone of resistance at Casablanca was practically wiped out before the commander there sought an armistice, and British observers believed that an armistice for the entire area of Morocco and Algeria would follow speedily.

Frenchmen Optimistic
Fighting Frenchmen also were optimistic.

"It is felt that resistance may well collapse altogether at a much earlier stage than was at first thought possible," a fighting French spokesman said.

Overnight reports indicated a steady expansion of the holdings of Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's forces.

French light naval units which attempted to interfere with American seizure of the Oran naval base were destroyed by a supporting British naval squadron, a British correspondent wrote from the field.

The Allied command announced that the American Naval-air forces had "overcome to a large degree the resistance of French naval units

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(This column, conducted as a daily feature by DeWitt Mackenzie, war analyst, is written today by Glenn Babb. Mr. Mackenzie, now touring the war zones, is travelling.)

It is not to be expected that Adolf Hitler would take our move into North Africa lying down. His record was warning enough that he would act with lightning speed, utter ruthlessness and entire disregard for any covenants that might stand in his way. With Rommel beaten and the British and American Armies moving rapidly toward occupation of the entire North African coast the danger to his enslaved Europe was too great.

So today, when the United Nations celebrate the 24th anniversary of the first Armistice of Compiegne Forest, the Nazi Fuehrer tears up the second armistice dictated in that tragic, historic woodland and sends his legions swarming toward the Mediterranean.

No Indignation

His enemies will receive this typically Hitlerian stroke without either surprise or indignation. The world has little further capacity for indignation over anything Hitler can do. And the high commands which prepared with such foresight and imagination and such thoroughness in detail the campaign now moving toward success in North Africa undoubtedly have foreseen the Nazi seizure of the rest of continental France and made plans to meet it.

The pretext the Fuehrer offers in his proclamation for that seizure—that he knew the Allies were preparing to move next against Corsica and southern France—probably was his own invention, but Allied leadership has made it clear that the North African campaign is merely the prelude to campaigns to achieve the full liberation of France and all Europe.

Somewhere along that comparatively vulnerable southern coastline of the Nazi new Europe there are determined to strike sooner or later. It has become one of the most anxious concerns of the Fuehrer to guess where and when. A wrong guess will mean disaster.

The significance of the march to Marseille is too vast to be grasped entirely in the first few hours. But a few facts stand out.

Allies Moved First
This time it is not Hitler that has moved first; the strategic initiative lies with the increasingly formidable combination which is setting about his destruction.

The campaign of North Africa became immediately the campaign for the whole Mediterranean. Hitler will fight to the finish for that key to victory. Already he has sent air-borne troops to Tunisia to meet the United States forces moving in from the west. It can be expected that a mighty section of his great land and air forces will be shifted rapidly to the south of Europe.

One consequence of this is that there has been opened a second front that should satisfy Joseph Stalin as completely as an Allied landing on France's northern shores. No longer can Hitler concentrate three-fourths of his more than 300 divisions in Russia. Relief for the Red Army is at hand.

Hitler's move will be a useful antidote to the complacency-inducing dreams of early victory that have found some acceptance in the United Nations these last few days. The Nazi leader still commands tremendous power and, knowing there can be no compromise for him, can be expected to fight to the utter finish. Winston Churchill said it yesterday in terms we would do well to keep in mind: This is "not the beginning of the end but the end of the beginning."

The 35,000-ton battleship Jean Bart, bomb-battered center of this resistance, was reported aflame off the harbor and supporting light forces of the Vichy fleet were wiped out.

800 Prisoners Taken

This maritime effort directed by U. S. Rear Admiral H. K. Hewitt was correlated with infiltration of Casablanca's eastern suburbs by the tank-supported troops commanded by Maj. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr.

Field dispatches from Algeria told of the capture of 800 prisoners without resistance by an armored column which struck at an airdrome Sunday.

Four French Dewoitine planes hovering high over the field swooped to attack and downed one U. S. fighter, but three of them were shot down. The field was taken over by the U. S. Spitfire squadrons of the 12th Air Force, commanded by Brig. Gen. James H. Doolittle.

French civilians and Arabs alike were described as friendly. American troops shared their cigarettes.

American contingents evidently were well on their way toward Libya, the last territory of Italy's African empire. Vichy and Berlin accounts of continuous operations in Algeria were without immediate confirmation.

Inland Fighting

These included reports of fighting at Orleansville, midway between Oran and Algiers, and at Bida, 25 miles inland from the capital; announcement of an American drive upon Bou Saada, deep in the desert 120 miles southeast of Algiers and about 400 miles from the Libyan-Tunisia frontier.

A Rome radio broadcast said strong formations of Italian bombers and torpedo planes continued operations against British-American naval forces off Algeria. Defensive fire was described as "extremely fierce."

Blackouts were reported enforced both at Algeria and at Tunis, capital of Tunisia, across which President Roosevelt has sought free troop passage.

DECISION NEAR IN GUINEA FIGHT

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Nov. 11 (AP)—Allied troops, fighting a desperate Japanese force in the thick New Guinea jungles around Olvi while Allied aircraft attacked the only remaining path of withdrawal for the enemy, are bringing their battle to a decision, General MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The Allied fliers flew up and down the line of Japanese supply between Olvi and Buna on the northeastern New Guinea coast, raking ammunition lion dumps and troops with machinegun fire and bombing gun positions and supply depots.

The communiqué reported that serious damage was inflicted on the Japanese installations and ammunition dumps were destroyed.

Many guns in the vicinity of the fighting were silenced, the communiqué said, and heavy anti-aircraft guns were blown from their emplacements. Severe casualties were reported inflicted on Japanese ground troops.
